Challenge Review Games

our learning

Reading

We will begin Reader's Workshop. I will be modeling good reading habits as we read I Love My New Toy. Students will continue to preview and make predictions. Students will create reading goals. In Phonics we will be learning short e.

Math

Students will learn to use bar models to find unknowns. They will also learn how to use number lines to add on. Students will create a rule for adding zero, and they will discover what happens to the sum when the addends switch positions. Students are doing fantastic on their homework...Thank you for supporting them!

Religion

We will learn about the Bible. Students will give thanks for the gifts that they have been given.

Writing

Students will begin Writer's Workshop this week. Tools for writing will be introduced. Students will plan small moment stories to write about.
