

THIS WEEK IN Mrs. Cellura's CLASS

M

4/8

4/9

T

W

4/10

4/11

R

F

No School

our learning

Reading

Students will work on fluency and comprehension skills. We are reading Zelda and Ivy, a chapter book by Laura McGee Kvasnosky. We will learn how to make movies in our head of what is happening in the story. Visualization is a key comprehension skill. In phonics we will learn about y as a vowel.

Math

Students will continue to explore measurement. We will be working with non-standards forms of measurement. Students will have fun measuring items with paperclips and string. We will build ramps and find out how far our cars travel. This is a light homework week. Enjoy!

Religion

We are leading Morning Prayer this week. St. Lawrence will be streaming the Living Rosary on May 1st. This week students will be praying the Rosary.

Writing

Students will begin to revise and edit their stories for publishing. Our last opinion piece will be a book review. Students will need to bring in their favorite book to write about after break.

Science

Students have been discovering information about the sun. This week we will chart sunrise and sunset. We will have fun with the sun by making shadows.

homework

- Tuesday: How many blocks sheet
- Read for 10 minutes every night
- Sight word review every night
- Students will be writing book reviews on their favorite book-Details to follow. Books need to be brought into the classroom on Monday, 4/22

Reminders

4/10: Quiet Mass

4/11: April Birthday Lunch

4/12: No School

4/15-4/19: Easter Recess

4/23: Report cards on MSP

5/1: Planetarium Field Trip

Birthdays that will be celebrated over break

- 4/14: Eddie
- 4/16: Gabriel

Happy Birthday have a great day!!!