Summer Exchange Program: A simple swap here, a little trade there, and suddenly your habits are a whole lot healthier, Try these easy changes: The usual move: Rev up with an energy drink. Your Healthier Move: Take a nap. If you find yourself flagging in the middle of the day, a nap can be the perk you need. Thirty minutes or so of shut-eye can improve your attention span and reaction time for as long as four hours afterward. Not at home? Head to the nearest park and relax for a few winks in the shade.. You'll also benefit from getting fresh air. The usual move: Sweeten Iced Tea with Sugar. Your Healthier Move: Drizzle some Honey. White sugar goes through processing that results in truly empty calories. Honey, on the other hand, is consumed as nature made it. What might you find in a drizzle? Small amounts of calcium, magnesium, and potassium.
