FROM THE PASTOR’S DESK . . .

Today we celebrate the Feast of the Most Holy Trinity. It is an opportunity for us to contemplate the mystery of God. Remember, this is not something we have to figure out, but something we must discover. We will never fully understand God. But just because we cannot say everything about God, does not mean we cannot say anything about God.

We start every prayer with “In the name of the Father, and the Son and the Holy Spirit.” It should not go unnoticed that it is the name of God not the names of God. We are making a profound theological point here. Our God is one. And yet, He manifests Himself in three divine persons. Many have called this the “central mystery of our faith.” The Father was able to send his Son to save us and the Holy Spirit to remain with us forever.

Even deeper into this mystery, we can assert that our God is relational. The intimate relationship between the Father, Son and Spirit make up the essence of divinity. It is into and from this communion of divine love that we are created. Made in God’s image and likeness, we are preconditioned to love and to be loved. In fact, we are most like the Trinity when we love God and our neighbors as ourselves.

May this divine mystery of God’s love continue to unfold for each of us and may we be blessed ... in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.

PARENTS

The most important gift that we can give to our children is the gift of our Catholic Faith. But we can't simply send our children to a religion class, and hope that by doing this, we have done enough. It is the job of the family to teach the children on a daily basis how to live the faith that they have learned in class. Help your family live the Catholic Faith at home. It will help you move from a learned faith, to a lived faith. That is the job of the family.

Our Catholic Faith sets us apart and instills in us a deep relationship with Jesus. To be a holy family, look to the Holy Family! May God bless you in your efforts and encourage you along the way.

Readings for June 3:

THE SOLEMNITY of the MOST HOLY BODY & BLOOD of CHRIST

1st Reading: Exodus 24:3-8

When Moses came to the people and related all the words and ordinances of the LORD, they all answered with one voice, "We will do everything that the LORD has told us." Moses then wrote down all the words of the LORD and, rising early the next day, he erected at the foot of the mountain an altar and twelve pillars for the twelve tribes of Israel. Then, having sent certain young men of the Israelites to offer holocausts and sacrifice young bulls as peace offerings to the LORD, Moses took half of the blood and put it in large bowls; the other half he splashed on the altar. Taking the book of the covenant, he read it aloud to the people, who answered, "All that the LORD has said, we will heed and do." Then he took the blood and sprinkled it on the people, saying, "This is the blood of the covenant that the LORD has made with you in accordance with all these words of his."

2nd Reading: Hebrews 9:11-15

Brothers and sisters: When Christ came as high priest of the good things that have come to be, passing through the greater and more perfect tabernacle not made by hands, that is, not belonging to this creation, he entered once for all into the sanctuary, not with the blood of goats and calves but with his own blood, thus obtaining eternal redemption. For if the blood of goats and bulls and the sprinkling of a heifer's ashes can sanctify those who are defiled so that their flesh is cleansed, how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself unblemished to God, cleanse our consciences from dead works to worship the living God. For this reason he is mediator of a new covenant: since a death has taken place for deliverance from transgressions under the first covenant, those who are called may receive the promised eternal inheritance.

Gospel: Mark 14:12-16, 22-26

On the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, when they sacrificed the Passover lamb, Jesus' disciples said to him, "Where do you want us to go and prepare for you to eat the Passover?" He sent two of his disciples and said to them, "Go into the city and a man will meet you, carrying a jar of water. Follow him. Wherever he enters, say to the master of the house, 'The Teacher says, "Where is my guest room where I may eat the Passover with my disciples?'" Then he will show you a large upper room furnished and ready. Make the preparations for us there." The disciples then went off, entered the city, and found it just as he had told them; and they prepared the Passover. While they were eating, he took bread, said the blessing, broke it, gave it to them, and said, "Take it; this is my body." Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, and they all drank from it. He said to them, "This is my blood of the covenant, which will be shed for many. Amen, I say to you, I shall not drink again the fruit of the vine until the day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God." Then, after singing a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.
