From the Pastor's Desk

Isaiah presents a reassuring vision of God's healing and restorative powers. Those marginalized by suffering will receive new life: the blind, deaf, lame, and mute. Even creation will be renewed and the desert overflow with life-giving water.

The Gospel shows us the fulfillment of Isaiah's vision in Jesus' ministry with the healing of the deaf and mute man. Mark's account describes Jesus performing the miracle in realistic detail. Jesus treats the man with respect by taking him aside from the crowd and showing him special concern. Looking up to heaven as he performs the healing, Jesus demonstrates his unity with the Father. Putting his fingers into the man's ears and touching his tongue with spittle, Jesus utters his command, "Be opened," and the man is healed of his disabilities. Mark reports that the people acknowledge what Jesus has done by saying: "He has done all things well"—a reminder of God's words at the creation of the world.

James' letter offers a vignette that challenges us to emulate Jesus, who treated every person with dignity. No distinctions should be made among Jesus' followers. Rich and poor must be embraced equally without discrimination. James shows how Jesus' teaching should be carried out in the lives of the worshipping community.
