Dearest All Souls Catholic Church,

I want to take a moment to offer a big Thank You for such a loving send off this past weekend. Both the English and Hispanic Communities shared the love of God in such a special way. I have had such a wonderful time here in these past four years and all of you have been so good to me.

As I journey to St. Peter Catholic Church in Deland, know that all of you will not only be so geographically close to me, but much more: closer in my heart!

Additionally, I would like to announce that our dynamic Faith Formation Director, Jenny Mansingh will be leaving us in order to pursue ministerial interests. I have worked with Jenny since my arrival four years ago and her gifts and talents in the Faith Formation Department have blessed the life of our parish! Thank you Jenny for your time and commitment—you will be missed, but as you journey forth, our prayers go with you.

Very Sincerely,

Father Medina

Today’s Gospel offers a rare framework—a story in a story. Most of the healing miracles are standalone encounters. One person approaches Jesus, demonstrates faith, and is healed. The evangelist tells the next story. This Gospel, however, is different. Jesus is on his way to heal one person, a young girl of twelve, and is interrupted on his journey by "a woman afflicted with hemorrhages." She bravely approaches Jesus in a crowd, despite being ritually unclean from her bleeding, and stretches out to touch his cloak. She is healed! Jesus meets her eye, confirms her faith, and continues on to resurrect the young girl.

Reading this passage, it might be easier to identify with one story—the long-suffering woman or the young, innocent girl—and to move past the other. But here they sit side by side. The girl is twelve. The woman has been suffering for twelve years. For the Gospel writers, number parallels have deep symbolic meaning.

Between the woman and the young girl, we are not one or the other. We are both. None of us had a perfect childhood, perfect families, or a perfect peer group. As we endure pain, disappointment, or unmet expectations, it can feel like a part of our childhood hopes have died. Our coping mechanisms, social adaptations, and hidden secrets can make us the "walking wounded" in some respects. Jesus wants to do more than simply staunch the bleeding. His healing hand makes dead things come alive. He awakens the dreams that are asleep. This process requires prayer, conversations with trusted community and spiritual mentors, and critical looks at difficult areas of our life. However, we can believe the words of our Lord. If we approach Jesus in faith, believing that he wants to heal and save, we, too, will hear his calming words spoken over the hurts of our life. “I say to you, arise!” “Go in peace.”

Vivir la Liturgia—Inspiración de la Semana

Dios no se regocija en nuestra muerte o destrucción. En cambio, nos hizo a su imagen y quiere que tengamos vida. También quiere que seamos sanados y que conozcamos su toque de amor. Hay gran poder en un abrazo. El toque de otros puede sanar heridas y restaurar la vida. También hay poder en la fe. La fe puede volverse a la verdad y a Dios. Dios puede cambiar radicalmente cómo lo vemos a Él, cómo nos vemos a nosotros mismos y cómo vemos a los demás. Dios quiere que nos volvamos a Él y seamos sanados de todo lo que nos hiere y nos ata, para que podamos ser libres y disfrutar de una vida plena. Acércate a alguien y testifícale de tu fe esta semana para que pueda recibir el abrazo de Dios que le cambie la vida.
