2-PART INTRODUCTORY COURSE on the CHURCH'S SOCIAL TEACHING

Fr. Dwight Campbell, S.T.D., will teach a two-part introductory course on the Catholic Church's Social Teaching: Tues. Oct. 18 and Tues. Oct. 25, 7pm - 8:30pm, at St. Therese Church, 2020 91st St., Kenosha. The course will explore basic principles of the Church's Social Teaching, and will serve as a foundation for later courses which will treat certain topics more in-depth. Please call the parish to register: 262-694-4695. Those attending should download a copy of Pope John Paul II's encyclical Centesimus Annus (On the 100th Anniversary of Rerum Novarum) at the Vatican website: w2.vatican.va. (Just do a google search for Centesimus Annus.)

Welcome him into eternal life...

Father Campbell, Father McDermott, and the Parish community of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel wish to extend our deepest sympathy to the family of Raymond Kintis.

O, Lord, comfort them in their time of sorrow and grief.

May he rest in the peace of Christ.

Cardinal Burke: Gender theory is ‘madness,’ transgender bathrooms ‘inhuman’

July 29, 2016 (LifeSiteNews) – Contraception is at the root of the culture of death and the defense of family is inseparable from the defense of life, Cardinal Raymond Burke says in a broad book-length interview. In his lengthy interview with French journalist Guillaume d’Alançon, titled Hope for the World: To Unite All Things in Christ, the American cardinal calls gender theory “madness” and addresses the question of Communion for the divorced and remarried.

Burke is the patron of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta and the former Prefect of the Apostolic Signatura, the Vatican’s highest court. “I do not see how it is possible to talk about the family without talking about the defense of human life,” Burke said. “It is fundamental. Contraception and abortion are two stages in the attack on conjugal love. In contraception there is a fear of new life, and this practice often leads to abortion. . . . The Lord created man and woman to love each other and to marry, and they express their love more fully in conjugal union, which is by nature procreative.”

"Gender theory" is an attack on this truth, he said. “Gender theory is an invention, an artificial creation. It is impossible to have an identity that does not respect the proper nature of man and that of woman,” Burke said. “It is madness that will cause immense damage in society and in the lives of those who support this theory. With gender theory, it is impossible to live in society. Already today, in certain places in the United States, anyone at all can change identity and say, ‘Today I am a man; tomorrow I will be a woman.’ That is truly madness. Some men insist on going into the women’s rest rooms. That is inhuman. In the schools, you can imagine the confusion. . . . Nowadays there is enormous confusion, which is based on the false idea that there are practically an infinite number of possible sexual orientations. The twofold expression of the human person is not heterosexuality and homosexuality, but male and female. This is the authentic theology of anthropology: that God created man: ‘male and female he created them.’” Burke warned that Christians must defend the natural law from legislative attacks that contradict what “is inscribed in the heart of man by the sovereign will of God.” “Not to speak about the natural law is to deny reason,” he said.

Similarly, people who experience same-sex attraction deserve authentic pastoral care, Burke said, care that doesn’t cause them harm by encouraging them to follow “inclinations against the natural law.” Homosexual acts ultimately cause suffering, he said, because they go against the natural “complementarity of the sexes and the sexual faculty’s potential for procreation.” But the Church offers those with same-sex attraction the opportunity to “discover what authentic love means,” Burke said. He cited the teaching of the Catechism of the Catholic Church that people attracted to the same sex must be “accepted with respect, compassion, and sensitivity” (CCC 2358).

In addition to the dismantling of natural law, Burke said Islam’s inability to peacefully coexist with other religions, and President Obama’s attacks on religious liberty, pose threats to the Catholic Church. “President Obama wants to push the Church back behind the walls of her church buildings and to prevent her from applying her law to her own hospitals and schools,” the cardinal cautioned. “He claims that the Church may not intervene on the question of abortion, of homosexuality, but that the State alone must manage these questions.”

The U.S. government “wants citizens to obey unjust laws,” he said, such as requirements that Catholic hospitals commit abortions and dispense contraceptives. “To that, I reply: We cannot do it,” because “there are situations in which the Christian must disobey when civil law commands an action contrary to the moral law.”

“It is impossible to say anything other than what Saint John Paul II said” on the question of whether non-abstinent divorced and remarried couples may receive Holy Communion, Burke insisted. He addressed the controversial topic that has been the source of a heated debate within the Catholic Church by quoting the late Pope’s exhortation Familiaris Consortio, which reiterated the Church’s longstanding teaching of not admitting to the Sacraments the divorced and civilly remarried unless they live as brother and sister. “The state of life of divorced-and-remarried Catholics is not consistent with the mystery of the union of Christ and the Church,” Burke said.

Many see Pope Francis’ exhortation Amoris Laetitia as seeming to say that in some cases the Church will allow those living unrepentantly in situations it labels objectively sinful to receive Holy Communion. No pope could change the Church’s moral teaching even if he wanted to, Burke told d’Alançon. “It is impossible for the Church to change her teaching in matters concerning the indissolubility of marriage,” he said. “The Church, the Bride of Christ, obeys His words in ch. 19 of the Gospel of Saint Matthew, which are very clear insofar as they concern the nature of marriage.”

“The Catholic Woman’s Club of Kenosha, will meet Monday Oct. 10th, 1pm, Holy Rosary Church/Lower Hall. There is an elevator for your convenience. A nurse from the Kenosha Visiting Nurses will be administering Flu Shots. If you wish to participate, bring your Medicare/insurance card with you. Our speaker is Mr. Louie Aceto, owner of S.J. Crystal’s (men’s clothing apparel). You may still pay dues of $15.00 with check, by mail to: Ms. Connie Thomey ,514-40 th.Pl., Kenosha, 53140

SANCTUARY RENOVATION

We are pleased to announce that the firm Deprato-Rigali has come in with a bid much below our original estimate for painting the sanctuary. They are able to complete the entire project - fabricate the high altar (Phase 1) and paint the murals and saints (Phase 2) - for slightly under $300,000. (Recall our original estimate was over $300,000 for Phase 2 alone.) Deprato-Rigali is an excellent company - they helped to restore St. John Cantius Church (which was recently voted the most beautiful church in the United States—and which we visited on our recent bus trip).

Our Parish has committed to Phase 1 and we have set aside $130,000 in parish funds for the altar fabrication. We have an additional $31,000 that has already been donated. This combined amount - $161,000 - is over and above the cost of the altar fabrication ($155,000, but we will get a price reduction of at least $10,500 if Deprato-Rigali gets the contract for Phase 2 as well.)

We would like to be able to commit to Phase 2. This requires about another $140,000. We ask that people who may have been waiting to donate toward the project wait no longer. With painting costs down, here are new figures:

- two big murals at sides of altar: $20,000 each
- mural behind the altar (angels): $10,000
- ten saints: $5,500 each

Let us pray for Bl. Fra Angelico's intercession that this project may give glory to God & Our Lady!

Donations may be made online:

On Saturday, October 15, 2016, teachers, staff, students and families of All Saints Catholic School will participate in the Soles for Catholic Education Walk at Mt. Mary University in Milwaukee. Funds raised will go directly back to the school to be used to offset tuition for families. If you are interested in contributing a pledge in which 100% of the pledge will go to All Saints Catholic School families, please contact Sue Wendorf (262)925-4024 or enter your pledge online at catholicsschoolswalk.org and select "Donate" and select All Saints Catholic School from the list of teams. Your support for our school, as always, is appreciated. "I invite you to become Saints." Pope Benedict XVI
