PASTORS COLUMN

ON THIS SOLEMNITY OF CORPUS CHRISTI A CATHECESIS ON THE MASS IS OFFERED

The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is the central act of worship in the life of a Catholic. The name 'Mass' comes from the final blessing by the priest in Latin 'Ite missa est' meaning "Go, it has been sent". St. Thomas Aquinas said it meant the offering of the Mass had been sent to God. The Mass has four basic parts or 'rites'. The beginning is called the Introductory Rite. At the beginning, the priest processes in, accompanied by altar servers. Often the congregation sing a hymn. Once the priest reaches the sanctuary he begins Mass by praying the Sign of the Cross; 'In the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, Amen.' This short prayer means that everyone is reminded that they are baptized into the One God in three persons, and so puts themselves into his protection. Then the congregation are given a few moments to reflect upon the things they have done or not done which hurt other people, and are invited to repent, or say sorry to God. This is because not being sorry for sins (when we have hurt other people or disobeyed God,) can be a barrier to being given the graces God wants to give us.

This is followed by the Liturgy of the Word. Liturgy is an ancient word, which came from the ancient Greeks meaning 'official work,' so Mass is part of the official prayer and work of the Church. In the Liturgy of the Word, everyone listens to readings from the Bible; first, a story from the Old Testament which is completed by what Jesus Christ did, e.g. the story of the Israelites being fed on manna in the desert (Exodus chapter 16), is completed when Jesus Christ said 'I am the bread of life' (John chapter 6). Then a psalm is prayed or sung on the same theme. The second reading is usually a letter from St Paul and then everyone stands to listen to a reading from the Gospel, the story of Jesus. This reading will show how the Old Testament is completed by Jesus. After the readings everyone sits and listens to the homily, or sermon preached by the priest. To complete this part of the Mass, on Sundays, everyone recites the Creed, which is the statement of faith in God, and then each parish has its own set of 'intercessions' that is, a set of prayers for local issues and people.

The next part of the Mass is called the Liturgy of the Eucharist. 'Eucharist' means 'to give thanks', so it begins by the 'offertory' when we offer ourselves to God. This is symbolized by taking up the bread and wine which will become the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ, and the collection. During the Eucharistic prayer everyone kneels as to worship Jesus Christ who becomes present under the appearance of bread and wine when the priest prays the 'Consecration'. The change is not 'done' by the priest, but by Christ, and whilst visible, nothing appears to have changed, the change is one of substance, of what it is. Those who are spiritually prepared to receive 'Holy Communion' then process up to receive, either in one kind (just the host, the Body) or in two kinds (from the cup as well). Those unable to receive Holy Communion, either because they are not Catholics, or because as Catholics they have disobeyed a serious law of the Church and have not been reconciled to the God, may come forward and receive a blessing.

The final part of Mass, the concluding rite is quite short – after some time to reflect on the Eucharist (Holy Communion) everyone stands and the priest prays a final prayer, asking God for help to use the graces we have received in Mass in our daily lives. He then blesses everyone in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit, so we all leave knowing we have worshipped the Triune God, and strengthened by him to live our lives in the world. To the priest's final words, 'The Mass is ended. Go in the peace of Christ, to love and serve the Lord' the congregation reply 'Thanks be to God.'

Much has been written on the central mystery of the Eucharist and St. Cyril of Jerusalem writing in the late fourth century said, 'Do not look upon the bread and wine as something ordinary, for, by the Lord's own words, they are his Body and Blood. Even though perception suggests this to you, let faith grant you certainty. Do not judge the matter by taste! Be firmly convinced by faith that you have become worthy of the Body and Blood of Christ' (Mystagogical Catecheses 4, 6).

May we fall deeper into the mystery of God present in the Holy Mass and never take this amazing gift for granted.

Peace,
Fr. Richard

TENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

First Reading: 1 Kings 17:17-24

The child of the mistress of the house where Elijah sojourned became ill and died. The woman pleaded with Elijah who took the son and prayed over him. When the child revived Elijah returned him to his mother who recognized Elijah as "a man of God."

Second Reading: Galatians 1:11-19

Paul proclaims the gospel, not as human, but coming from the revelation of Jesus Christ. Paul continues to acknowledge his own sinfulness and call to grace.

Gospel: Luke 7:11-17

The gospel continues to recount the miracles and healing powers of Jesus. As Jesus neared the gates to the city of Nain, they came upon a deceased young man who was being carried out of the city. His mother, a widow, and a large crowd accompanying the body, met Jesus on the way. Compassionately, Jesus comforts the weeping mother and restores life to the dead man.
