

Brothers and sisters: Since we have a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold fast to our confession. For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who has similarly been tested in every way, yet without sin. So let us confidently approach the throne of grace to receive mercy and to find grace for timely help

From the Pastor's Desk

Rhett James Schulkers was welcomed into the Catholic Church and Christian Community through the sacrament of Baptism October 14th here at St. Rose Church.

Brian Loeb and Sarah Thomson were united in the holy sacrament of Matrimony October 13th here at St. Rose Church.

In the back of church you will find Purgatorial Envelopes for November through October of next year. Each month two masses are said for the Purgatorial Society. This is a good way to have masses said for your loved ones. Please fill out and put the envelopes in the collection basket.

The special collection for the humanitarian, long-term recovery and Church needs arising from natural disasters was $2,701.00.

Thank you for your generosity.

October 26th HAPPY 65TH BIRTHDAY, FR. BARRY

Mark your calendars now for the St. Rose Choir's fourth annual Christmas Concert on Sunday, December 23rd at 4:00 PM. This free concert will be full of beloved Christmas carols and choral music, old and new. We welcome you to invite your family and friends.

This weekend, we will have a collection for World Mission Sunday. We are asked to reach out and support the young churches throughout our world. Your prayers and generous gifts to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith in this weekend's collection will help missionaries offer the poor of these areas practical help as they share the mercy of God. It will ensure the development of local dioceses and support the work of priests, religious and lay leaders who serve those on the margins and in most need. Thank you for your generosity! One collection only.

Opening Prayer

Almighty ever-living God, grant that we may always conform our will to yours and serve your majesty in sincerity of heart. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Reflecting on Living the Gospel

Two men in cahoots together, scheming to get special treatment. This kind of setup is familiar in movies, the news, politics, and even (unfortunately) in daily life. And today we hear about it in the gospel. Human nature being what it is, two men, brothers in this case, are angling to get a better deal. They speak with Jesus on their own, in private. Their rather bold statement, "we want you to do for us whatever we ask of you" is met with open receptivity on Jesus' part. The way this story begins is reminiscent of children asking something of their parents. As a patient, listening parent, Jesus asks the brothers, "What do you wish me to do for you?" What would be our own reply to Jesus at that moment? His question is wide open. What do we want from Jesus? This question can be the source of fruitful meditation and prayer throughout the week.

James and John's desire for glory provides Jesus the chance to expound once again on Christian discipleship, which is not the way of the world. For the disciples, greatness comes in service. The servant is the master. Jesus, the true Master and teacher, did not come to be served, but to serve. Even today, the gospel message of service flies in the face of cultural mores. How many powerful people with authority have underlings to do their bidding? In the power structures we find at work, in family, and in the marketplace, those at the top set the agenda and have their wishes carried out. Those who surround the powerful carry out the wishes and commands of the top. With Jesus, this structure is inverted. The greatest is truly the one who serves. The mark of greatness is humility.

Closing Prayer

Hear these prayers, O God. By your mercy and grace, may we create your kingdom here and now by embracing your Son's attitude of humble and selfless service to all. In Jesus' name, we pray. Amen.

For Reflection:

 Have I ever had to confront another's ambition or arrogance, similar to the attitude of James and John in today's gospel?

Suggestions for group and individual use:

- Pray aloud the opening prayer (in The Roman Missal called the "collect");
- One person read aloud the gospel;
- Each read prayerfully "Reflecting on Living the Gospel" and spend some time in personal prayer;
- Share together responses to "For Reflection";
- Pray the "Closing Prayer."

TWENTY-NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME OCTOBER 21, 2018

Gospel Mark 10:35-45 (longer form)

James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came to Jesus and said to him, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we ask of you."

He replied, "What do you wish me to do for you?"

They answered him, "Grant that in your glory

we may sit one at your right and the other at your left."

Jesus said to them, "You do not know what you are asking.

Can you drink the cup that I drink or be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized?"

They said to him, "We can."

Jesus said to them, "The cup that I drink, you will drink, and with the baptism with which I am baptized, you will be baptized;

but to sit at my right or at my left is not mine to give but is for those for whom it has been prepared."

When the ten heard this, they became indignant at James and John.

Jesus summoned them and said to them,
"You know that those who are recognized as rulers over the Gentiles lord it over them.

and their great ones make their authority over them felt.
But it shall not be so among you.
Rather, whoever wishes to be great among
you will be your servant;
whoever wishes to be first among you
will be the slave of all.
For the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many."
