Stewardship

"We therefore urge the Catholics of every parish in our land to ponder the words of St. Paul: "Now as you excel in every respect, in faith, discourse, knowledge, all earnestness and in love we have for you, may you excel in this gracious act also." (II Corinthians 8:7). Only by living as generous stewards of these local Christian communities, their parishes, can the Catholics of the United States hope to make the vital sources of faith filled Christian dynamism they are meant to be."

Stewardship: A Disciple's Response

Parish Mission Statement

We, the parishioners of Resurrection of Our Lord Catholic Church, acknowledge, understand and accept the responsibilities associated with the gifts bestowed upon us through the Holy Spirit, we continue to proclaim the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

We celebrate the Eucharist and sacraments in our culturally diverse community, where persons of all races and nationalities are invited to help us become a living witness of the gospel.

We share our faith and empower members in our faith community to become disciples of Jesus Christ with a commitment to stewardship and the church's social teaching.

We rely on the help of the Holy Spirit as we pursue this mission.

"Silence in the liturgy is intended to give expression to the prayers of the people, albeit in the quiet of their hearts, its aim is not to make them passive." The Roman Missal is very direct in what it says about silence in the liturgy; "Sacred Silence also, as part of the celebration, is to be observed at the designated times: At the beginning of the Penitential Act, after the invitation to pray, after each reading, the Homily and after Communion. Observing silence before and during Mass, is aimed at recollection, meditation and silence. Excerpts from "A Conversation with Stillness: The Ritual of Silence in the Mass" by Father Douglas Martis
