The Principal's Blog

As we approach Palm Sunday and Holy Week, this is a good time to reflect upon how well we did with keeping our Lenten Promises. You may be feeling like me this year, this Lent has been difficult keeping my promises (to pray more, to fast and be more charitable). If so, you and I can still make this Lent holy by following the example of the perfect role model, Jesus. This week let Jesus, the Good Shepherd, lead us. Jesus' life was absolutely God-centered. If you and I are going to continually move closer to this ideal, we must refocus, recalibrate, and recommit ourselves daily. Putting into practice to pray, practice solitude, and serve others will be a good start in making this week holy. Check out the schedule that is in this newsletter of opportunities to worship with our children during the school day, and with the parish during the Triduum (Holy Thursday, Good Friday, and Easter.)

This Wednesday, April 17th, will be our last collection for our Haiti Scholarships! Our school community has been wonderful with their offerings (alms giving) and now we want to end on a high note!

Spring and family gatherings at Easter-time is synonymous in the Barlag family with de-cluttering and spring cleaning. It is also a good time for our SHC boys to trim up their hair and SHC girls to let down the hem of their skirts if needed.

This time of the year also brings about the rumor mill concerning teacher assignments for next school year. We always celebrate with our colleagues when new adventures and challenges call. Teacher contracts and support staff letters of employment will be offered to our faculty and staff as soon as next school year's school budget has been approved.

This weekend when you attend church with your family please continue to pray for me and my family and the continued success of our school. And as always, your family will be in my prayers.

Frank Barlag

Sacred Heart of Jesus, have mercy on us.

Live Jesus in our hearts, Forever!
