Dear Friends of Our Lady of the Chesapeake,

The readings on this 14th Sunday in Ordinary Time remind us of our call to be prophetic voices in the world. They also remind us that if we are true to this vocation, then we will encounter push back and challenges from others who are unwilling or unable to hear our message. This happens all the time in the Church. As our culture pulls further and further away from the teachings of Jesus, by ignoring or rejecting the least or the most vulnerable among us, the more our prophetic voices are needed. I believe in the power of the Word of God to bring about a conversion in people's hearts and lives. It may not happen immediately, but if God's Word is Truth, then it will have the power to break through the many different opinions and voices, because it is the Voice of Truth. This week, I encourage us to be Jesus' prophets in our corner of the world, for as today's scriptures remind us: "whether they heed or resist...they shall know that a prophet has been among them."

OLC puts the Corporal Works of Mercy into practice during Shelter Week. One way we support this effort is through our Winter Relief dinner scheduled for Nov. 3rd. Our Winter Relief Auction Tree has been set up in the Narthex and is ready for your support. Tags on the tree list items to be placed in the auction baskets which will be auctioned off during the Winter Relief event in November. Please take a tag, purchase the item(s) on it, and return it to the Church. Thank you in advance for supporting our efforts to feed, clothe, shelter and welcome those in need in our community.

Don't forget to sign up for GiveCentral. Your participation in GiveCentral will help us to reduce our expenses while offering you a convenient and consistent way to support OLC. Everyone who signs up by 8/31/18 and begins making their donations via GiveCentral will be entered into a raffle for a $1,500 Royal Caribbean Gift Certificate (or a $1,500 vacation credit for travel booked through Cruise and Travel Planner travel agency.) Go to GiveCentral.org and click on "Start Giving" to sign up. Thanks.

Our fiscal year has ended. We are working on closing out the year and putting together a presentation of our financial position to the parish community. I will let you know when this is schedule, but in the meantime, please continue your generous support of OLC.

Thank you for your prayers and support for Our Lady of the Chesapeake.

God Bless!

Father Steve

Differences

Sameness becomes a kind of security blanket that wraps us up in the warm feeling of being acceptable to the groups with which we identify and whose approval we seek. If we don't stand out, we can't be criticized. We are safe because we are just like everybody else. To be socially acceptable we have allowed ourselves to become socially invisible.

Today's prophets call us to examine how we are caught in sameness. It is an effective technique, a kind of chameleon approach to life, but it is neither psychologically mature nor spiritually healthy.

Somewhere along the line we must become who we are meant to be as individuals. We are persons put on earth to contribute to it as well as take from it. Otherwise we doom ourselves to live a life that is only partially alive. Most of all, we must allow others to do the same, as much for our sake as for theirs. It is in the development of our differences that we thrive, that we are gifted by the presence of the other. It is in our respect for the differences of others that we grow. "Sameness," Petrarch wrote, "is the mother of disgust; variety the cure."...

The glorious burden of real Christianity is: to follow the one who talked to Samaritan women and Roman soldiers, all the time allowing them to be who they were. Clearly, differences were not made to be homogenized; differences were made to be respected, to be honored, to be cherished....

It is only when we think against the mind of another that we find out what we ourselves really think.

Going along, nodding yes to everything, keeping the norms, thinking by the rules never tests a concept; it only perpetuates it.... The truth is that it is only when we think against the mind of another that we find out what we ourselves really think, what we ourselves are willing to support. Anything else leaves us with colorless souls indeed. It is the sparks set off in us by the minds of those around us that fire our own. Creativity, it is too often forgotten, comes out of differences. It is the ability to function outside the lines, beyond the dots, despite the boxes and the mental chains by which we have forever been constrained, that fits us to be the architects of the future. Instead, we want everyone to think alike when what we really need are people who are thinking newly – about theology, about God, about faith, about morality, about science, about life. "You won't find this year's birds in last year's nests," the proverb teaches, but we so easily miss the meaning of it entirely. Life is meant for moving on, the observation implies....

Being able to think differently from those around us and being able to function lovingly with people who think otherwise is the ultimate in human endeavor. It requires three things: a heart large enough to deal with conflict positively, enduringly, and kindly; a keen sense of personal purpose, the notion that there is something on the horizon that is worth debating; and a soul sensitive enough to transcend the tensions of the immediate for the sake of the quality of the future.

Spiritual Direction
offers the value of sharing our lived experience of God with another.
There is a concrete aspects of a lived experience. How is God's specific presence felt? What are the interior reactions to God's presence - e.g.,
peace, joy, desire, love or restlessness, fear, anger? Spiritual Direction opens us to a fuller and deeper relationship with God. Anyone interested in Spiritual Direction contact Sister Sally: 410-255-

The OLC Knights of Columbus will meet for one meeting a month for July and August. Our July meeting will be the third Wednesday July 18th and our August meeting will be Wednesday August 1st. All Knights of Columbus members are invited to our meeting in the Gathering place 7:30 P.M.

Any questions call John Donnelly 410-437-0116 e-mail sandysue@cablespeed.com.

Do you know how to make a sandwich?

Would you like to help those who need a hand up? Winter Relief is on break until next fall. However, during the spring and summer months, OLC volunteers make sandwiches for the homeless of the House of Hope. Many hands make light work, and it only takes an hour or two to put together a much appreciated meal for many. Contact Joyce Weisner at 410-255-4437 or 410-736-2683 if you would like more information or to help.
