Padre's Corner

Dear Family,

A habit is a hard thing to break, apparently even after witnessing a miracle. We find the apostles at the beginning of the Gospel going right back to the life they once lived, that of fisherman. When you are so used to living a certain way or doing the same routine over and over again, a change can be hard. God is patient however with our hearts as He continues to stretch them to fit His love. He meets with Peter and reminds him that our love must always continue to grow. We should never remain stagnant, especially in light of the Resurrection which propels us forth to live our faith ever deeper knowing our God has conquered sin and death. Christianity, dearest family, is not an armchair sport nor is it a passive consideration by spectators, it is a force to be reckoned with because His followers have been changed by what they have seen. Has the resurrection changed us?

Let us also pray for our little ones as they receive their first Holy Communion this Sunday. May they too know the power of the presence of God always here for us in the Eucharist, which is the food by which we grow in courage in faith!

In His joy, Fr. Daniel
