SPIRITUAL EXCERPT

YOUR PERSONAL CROSS

We all have crosses, and some we make ourselves. But all of us have a personal cross from God Himself, designed specifically for us. That cross, whether it is physical, mental, spiritual whatever it is, that particular cross is the main reason why you will be holy and it indicates your glory in heaven. Your entire glory in heaven will be dependent on how you carried your cross. We waste a lot of time trying to determine whether our cross is from our neighbor or from the Lord, or from ourselves—what difference does it make? If you've got it, carry it. It's to make you holy. St. Paul says the Leader had to suffer everything in order to teach us. Isn't it strange that He didn't teach us about joy, or health, or happiness? What did He have to teach us? How to suffer and yet you have people today who run as far from suffering as they can, as if it were evil.

EASTER DUTY

The time for fulfilling the Paschal Precept (Easter Duty), that is the obligation of receiving the Eucharist for Easter extends to the Solemnity of the Holy Trinity, May 27. No one conscious of committing a serious or mortal sin should receive Holy Communion until they have first gone to the Sacrament of Reconciliation a.k.a. Confession. Confessions are heard EVERY Saturday from 11:00AM to Noon and 3:00-3:25PM, every weekday morning at 7:30AM, and Fridays from 6:30-6:50PM. A Priest is also available to hear Confessions daily by appointment.

CLOTHING BINS

"In your Easter bonnet with all the frills upon it" are some of the lyrics to a very popular song which reflects the joys of the Easter season. Some people, however, have difficulty experiencing these joys due to their circumstances in life. Catholic Charities aims to help relieve the suffering of many in our society through its various programs. Please help Catholic Charities continue its mission by donating your unwanted clothing to the bin located on our property. May the spirit of the Risen Christ resound through your generosity. Thank you.

FRIDAY ADORATION

Just a reminder we have Exposition and Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament on Fridays from 12:00Noon – 3:00PM.

Why not get into the habit of looking through the ads and giving your neighbors/merchants a chance to serve your needs. Tell them you read about them in the OLV Parish Bulletin.

Who is a True Christian?

This is a true story told by one of the first missionaries to enter Russia: In Russia before the Berlin Wall came down and freedom to worship freely was against the law, many Christians were forced to get together in secret to worship the Lord. One group of Christians were gathered together in a simple house studying the Bible when suddenly the door was thrown open violently and three Russian soldiers burst in with rifles. One of the soldiers bellowed out that anyone who wasn't a Christian could leave immediately but anyone who had come to worship God should stay. After a moment of silence many of the people filed out of the house leaving a few people behind. One of the soldiers closed the door behind them and locked it, and then the soldiers all put down the rifles and explained to the remaining few that they also were Christians but they only wanted to worship with true believers. Could you pass such a test of your faith?

Christ Made Visible

Love is made visible by witnessing for Christ. To love Christ means that we must be in union with Him, a sign of contradiction in our society. To be a sign of contradiction signifies not to compromise with the spirit of evil — the devil, who has always been a rebel — or with the world with all its deceptions, making the path large and easy, but a path which does not lead to heaven. Christ died on the Cross for each of us, and in our adherence to Him, we continue His Passion for the salvation of our brothers and sisters. May the Heart of Jesus incite you to a more heroic witnessing which will inflame the hearts of all men. Blessed Luigi Novarese

MIRACLES

Some (religious) skeptics say, "Oh, the miracles. I can't accept miracles." One may drop a brown seed in the black soil and up comes a green shoot. You let it grow and, by and by, you pull up a root and you find it red. You cut the root and you find it has a white heart. Can any one tell how this comes about — how brown cast into black results in green and then in red and white? Yet you eat your radish without troubling your mind over miracles. Men are not distressed by miracles in the dining room; they reserve them all for religion! Every day is a miracle — a miracle of life that sustains our hope!

HOMEBOUND

If you or anyone you know is homebound, even for a short duration of time, please contact the parish office so I or an Extraordinary Minister of Holy Communion can be scheduled to bring the Eucharist to the sick and homebound.

VACATION

Shopping for vacation clothes, my husband and I passed a display of bathing suits. It had been at least ten years and twenty pounds since I had even considered buying a bathing suit, so I sought my husband's advice. 'What do you think?' I asked. 'Should I get a bikini or an all-in-one?' 'Better get a bikini,' he replied. 'You'd never get it all in one.' He's still in intensive care.

St. Martin of Tours

Martin was a young soldier in the Roman army. Elegantly dressed, he was mounted on his horse one day when he was accosted by a leper begging for alms. The sight and the stench of rotting flesh was so repulsive to the sensitivities of young Martin that his first instincts were to ride off on his horse. But something inside him made his walk up to the beggar. Since all he had was his military coat, he cut it in two and gave half to the leper while he wrapped himself with the other half. It was a very cold winter day. That night in his dream he saw Christ clothed in a half coat saying to the angels around his throne, "Martin has clothed me with his garment." This event was the turning point in the life of him who was to become St. Martin of Tours.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

In recent weeks, we have looked at the evolution of how Roman Catholics initiate children into the life of the Church. How did customs evolve in the Eastern Church? At one time, Christians in both East and West preferred to celebrate baptism in a community setting, with large numbers of adults and children initiated at Easter. The two branches of Christianity began to split on the proper time to do this. In the East, water was blessed in abundance on the feast of the Epiphany, which marked, among other things, the baptism of the Lord. Once infant baptism was fixed on that day, local customs marking a birth began to evolve. One celebration was the giving of a name on the eighth day, another was the "purification" of the mother on the fortieth day after birth. In that blessing, re-enacting Mary and Joseph's journey to the temple, the priest took the baby in his arms and placed the child before the altar. Just as Simeon received the child Jesus, so the priest received the new Christian while chanting Simeon's prayer. Later, normally on Epiphany, the priest would baptize, chrismate (confirm), and give a few drops of the Precious Blood to the child in a joyous celebration of the whole community.

I couldn't find my luggage at the airport baggage area and went to the lost luggage office and reported the loss. The woman there smiled and told me not to worry because she was a trained professional and said I was in good hands. "Now," she asked me, "Has your plane arrived yet?"

GOD’S LOVE

The story of a little incident that took place in Mainz in 1456 when Gutenberg was printing the first Bible can help us with the answer to the nature of God. The printer had a little daughter, Alice, who came into the printing press and picked up a discarded sheet with only one line of print. That line of print read: “God loved the world so much that he gave...” Now, those were times when popular religion was a matter of living in fear and trembling before the awesome wrath of God. So Alice put the paper in her pocket and kept on thinking on the fact of God being so loving, and her face radiated with joy. Her mother noticed her changed behavior and asked Alice what was making her so happy and Alice showed her mother the sheet of paper with the printed line. Her mother looked at it for some time and said, “So, what did God give?” “I don’t know,” said Alice, “but if God loved us well enough to give us something, then we need not be so afraid of Him.”

God Calling: Your Great Reward

You pray for Faith, and you are told to do so. But I make provision in the House of My Abiding for those who turn toward Me and yet have weak knees and hearts that faint. Be not afraid. I am your God, Your Great Reward. Yours to look up and say, "All is well."

I am your Guide. Do not want to see the road ahead. Go just one step at a time. I very rarely grant the long vista to My disciples, especially in personal affairs, for one step at a time is the best way to cultivate Faith.

You are in uncharted waters. But the Lord of all Seas is with you, the Controller of all Storms is with you. Sing with joy. You follow the Lord of Limitations, as well as the God in whose service is perfect freedom.

He, the God of the Universe, confined Himself within the narrow limits of a Baby-form and, in growing Boyhood and young Manhood, submitted to your human limitations, and you have to learn that your vision and power, boundless as far as spiritual things are concerned, must in temporal affairs submit to limitations too.

But I am with you. It was when the disciples gave up effort after a night of fruitless fishing that I came and the nets broke with the overabundance of supply.

The Bible remains open in my home because the Word of God is Spirit. Each day, I place my hands on the Bible and pray: "Lord, I place my hands upon Your Word. I ask You to imprint Your Word upon my heart and give me wisdom to understand it and the grace to live it. Take my life Lord, this day and everyday of my life, lead me in the path of Light and righteousness so that I may be Yours now and forever.

Lumen Gentium

The dogmatic Constitution of the Catholic Church

14. This Sacred Council wishes to turn its attention firstly to the Catholic faithful. Basing itself upon Sacred Scripture and Tradition, it teaches that the Church, now sojourning on earth as an exile, is necessary for salvation. Christ, present to us in His Body, which is the Church, is the one Mediator and the unique way of salvation. In explicit terms He Himself affirmed the necessity of faith and baptism(124) and thereby affirmed also the necessity of the Church, for through baptism, as through a door, men enter the Church.

PARENTS

YOU are responsible for educating your children in the faith. "Parents have been appointed by God himself as the first and principal educators of their children," writes John Paul II (40). Using a term recovered by the Second Vatican Council, he then calls the family a "domestic church," which "like the greater Church, needs to be constantly and intensely evangelized" (51). Finally, he adds that "the future of evangelization depends in great part on the Church of the home" (52). These beautiful words of John Paul II are a daily challenge to us. They remind us that we are called to become missionaries by instilling a love for the Gospel in our own homes.

PRAY

No one can get to Heaven unless he prays. If you do not eat, you will starve to death. If you do not drink, you will die of thirst. If you do not breathe, you will die for lack of air. But prayer is more necessary for you than food and drink and air. If you do not pray, you shall never see God in Heaven.

INTELLIGENCE

A little boy went up to his mother and asked: "Mom, where did my intelligence come from?" The mother replied. "Well, son, you must have got it from your father, cause I still have mine."

Saint Gemma Galani

Saint Gemma was a layperson, born March 12, 1878, whose life was marked throughout by divine favors and extraordinary graces, and also great trials and sufferings. Though she was an extraordinary mystic and stigmatic, bearing in her body the marks of the Lord Jesus, her spiritual life was quite hidden from the world. She was never the object of public curiosity or veneration. She was especially chosen by God to be a victim soul, that is, she was especially called to sacrifice and suffer for the conversion of sinners.

In 1899, Gemma had an interior warning that some unusual grace was to be granted to her. She was visited by the Blessed Virgin and Jesus appeared with His open wounds, but instead of blood, flames issued from them. His flames touched her hands, feet and heart. Blood flowed from her wounds. Each Thursday evening, Gemma would fall into rapture and the wounds would appear. The stigmata remained until Friday afternoon or Saturday morning when the bleeding would stop, and the wounds closed, only white marks would remain in place of the deep gashes.

She had many ecstasies and her words spoken during these raptures, were recorded by her confessor. At the end of her ecstasies, she returned to normal and went quietly and serenely about family life. Gemma's stigmata would continue to appear until the last three years of her life, when her confessor forbade her to accept them. Through her prayers, this phenomenon ceased, but the whitish marks remained on her skin until her death.

Gemma often saw her guardian angel, with whom she was on familiar terms. She often sent her guardian angel on errands, usually to deliver a letter or oral message to her confessor in Rome. In January of 1903, Gemma was diagnosed as having tuberculosis. She died quietly in the company of the parish priest, on April 11 at age twenty-five. He said, "She died with a smile which remained upon her lips, so that I could not convince myself that she was really dead." She was beatified in 1933 and canonized on May 2, 1940, only thirty-seven years after her death.

The Pain of Life is Pure Salt

The old Master instructed the unhappy young lady to put a handful of salt in a glass of water and then to drink it. "How does it taste?" the Master asked. "Very bad," said the lady. The Master then asked the young lady to take another handful of salt and put it in the lake. The two walked in silence to the nearby lake and when the apprentice swirled her handful of salt into the lake, the old man said, "Now drink from the lake." As the water dripped down the young lady's chin, the Master asked, "How does it taste?" "Good!" remarked the apprentice. "Do you taste the salt?" asked the Master. "No," said the young lady. The Master said, "The pain of life is pure salt; no more, no less. The amount of pain in life remains the same, exactly the same. But the amount we taste of the 'pain' depends on the container we put it into. So when you are in pain, the only thing you can do is to enlarge your sense of things... "Stop being a glass. Become a lake!"
