Twenty-ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time

OCTOBER 21, 2018

Isaiah 53:10-11; Hebrews 4:14-16;
Mark 10:35-45

James and John had ambition; nothing is wrong with that! Their career advancement depended on the Messiah; they wanted to be his chief cabinet members. But Jesus' "kingdom" was not what they expected.

His "kingdom" meant that God was the ruler of every aspect of their lives. To "drink the cup" didn't mean tasting his food to see if it was poisoned; it meant to "share in his suffering."

In short, Jesus tells them that true greatness means service to others. The CEO in the kingdom of heaven is one who serves the needs of all others. No one wants to suffer; no one in his right mind likes to suffer. But if we stand for what is right and true, we shall suffer!

The first reading tells of the "Suffering Servant." If we stand for righteousness, we will win in the end, for God will not abandon us. Think of how wonderful life would be if every business, every industry, every profession, and every occupation were guided by these principles!

Sad to say, we live in a world which is ruthlessly ruled by the market, by self-seekers, by those who care little for truth or virtue or for family or for human dignity. If we oppose the "system" we shall suffer.

Jesus showed the way. He is our high priest. He knows what we endure when we are loyal to Christian virtues. Let us, then, confidently approach the throne of his grace and put our trust in him. He won't let us down; in the long run, he – and we – will win.
