REFLECTION

THE GOOD SHEPHERD AND THE HIRELING

Here we have two people engaged in the exact same work. But what a contrasting attitude they bring to it.

Take the hireling. His problem is that his heart is not in his work. For him minding sheep is just a job. He does it, not because he wants to, but because he has to. He doesn't care about the quality of his work. All he cares about is his wages.

Now take the good shepherd. His heart is in his work. For him caring for the sheep is not just a job. It is his life. He does it, not because he has to, but because he wants to. For him shepherding is a labor of love.

In one sense this makes it harder for him, because he puts more of himself into it – to do anything well involves hard work and pain. But in another sense it makes it easier, because it enables him to bring all his energies and talents to it. The easiest actions are those that flow from love.

Jesus is the supreme example of the Good Shepherd. He gave his life for his sheep. His life wasn't taken from him. He gave it. He gave it because he cared for his sheep.

Each one of us is called to be a loving and caring person. This Sunday gives encouragement to all those who are trying to imitate the Good Shepherd and should prod the consciences of the hirelings.

Love is a marvelous source of strength and energy. Where genuine love is present no sacrifice is too great. This Sunday is known as Good Shepherd Sunday. But it is also referred to as 'vocations' Sunday. For Christians, there is really only one vocation – the vocation to love.

LITURGY

FOURTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

First Reading: Acts 4:8-12

Peter explains to the elders that his healing of a cripple was done in the name of Jesus Christ. He reminds the elders that they crucified Jesus, but God rose him up so that all people could be saved in his name.

Second Reading: I John 3:1-2

John expresses amazement at the fact that God allowed us to be called his children. Although we are unsure exactly what we will be after this life, we do know that we will see God as he is and be like him.

Gospel: John 10:11-18

Jesus speaks of a shepherd working only for pay, with no real concern for the sheep being well cared for. But Jesus is our shepherd and would lay down his own life for all those in his flock. God loves him for his willingness to sacrifice himself for the sake of all God's children.

LETTER FROM BISHOP SERRATELLI

DIOCESE OF PATERSON

777 Valley Road
Clifton, New Jersey 07013

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

As a diocese, we are taking up a special national collection this month for the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD). Your support of this collection brings positive change to communities across the country that are too often trapped in a cycle of poverty. In addition to making an impact nationally, 25% of this collection remains here to support our efforts at helping the poor in our own neighborhoods.

For over 40 years, CCHD has been working to improve the living conditions of those who live at or below the poverty level. The CCHD allocates grants to provide long-term solutions for millions of poor people who live in the United States.

Your support of this collection makes a difference for many of our brothers and sisters in Christ throughout our country and in our own backyard. Please prayerfully consider contributing to this collection when it is taken up in your parish.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

+Arthur J. Serratelli

*Most Reverend Arthur J. Serratelli, S.T.D., S.S.L., DD
