Dear Brothers and Sisters,

As Hurricane Dorian continues to cause devastation in its relentless path up the coast of the United States, we are now seeing how catastrophic this storm was – especially in the Bahamas. The destruction there has claimed many lives and left families homeless and in despair.

The generosity of so many people last year when Hurricane Michael made landfall in Panama City and surrounding areas was humbling and much appreciated. Recovery is still underway. Now it is our turn to help another community. The Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee will be making a monetary contribution to our neighbors for the recovery efforts in the Bahamas and elsewhere.

I ask that you consider making a donation to Catholic Relief Services (CRS) or Catholic Charities USA in support of these efforts. Donations to CRS can be made at <https://support.crs.org/donate/hurricane-dorian> and to Catholic Charities USA at <https://app.mobilecause.com/form/RTKRvQ?vid=1snqm>.

May the Lord, who calmed the sea and reassured his disciples of his constant presence, bless us all.

In Christ's Peace,

+Bill
