

All incoming freshmen are expected to read 2 of the 4 short stories listed below and complete a question grid for each (2 completed grids). Assignments will be due the first day of classes.

SHORT STORIES

Read two of the following short stories:

- 1) “The Cask of Amontillado” by Edgar Allen Poe
- 2) “The Lady or the Tiger” by
- 3) “The Most Dangerous Game” by Richard Connolly
- 4) “The Pedestrian” by Ray Bradbury

The Question Grid looks like this: (see the next pages)

Deeper Questioning Grid

2nd

|                     | Is?Present | Did?Past | Can?Possibility | Would/Could?Probability | Will?Prediction | Might?Imagination |
|---------------------|----------------|--------------|---------------------|---------------------------------|---------------------|-----------------------|
| 1st  What?Event | 1              | 2            | 3                   | 4                               | 5                   | 6                     |
| Where?Place     | 7              | 8...         |                     |                                 |                     |                       |
| When?Time       |                |              |                     |                                 |                     |                       |
| Which?Choice    |                |              |                     |                                 |                     |                       |
| Who?Person      |                |              |                     |                                 |                     |                       |
| Why?Reason      |                |              |                     |                                 |                     |                       |
| How?Meaning     |                |              |                     |                                 |                     | ...42                 |

Deeper thinking