Quelques paroles de Monsieur le Cure

And another tradition disappears.

The Knights of Columbus have announced a change in their regalia. Although the sword remains, the ceremonial hat and the cape have been suppressed. The members will now wear a blazer, tie, and beret.

Having no reason to join the discussion about whether or not this change is good, I will simply say that I will miss the ceremonial hats. We used to refer to the ceremonial hats as les chapeaux de bete puante. You can research the meaning.

Change is a part of life, but not necessarily easy.

This is a time of the year that marks change in the lives of many people. Berwick High School had the annual graduation ceremony on Thursday, May 16. As these young people complete their high school education, they begin an entirely different phase in their lives. It is change. Some will continue some type of education or training, others will enter the work force immediately or serve in the military. The change may be difficult.

The eighth graders at Berwick Junior High had their promotion ceremony on May 23. It is a short walk from the Junior High to the High School, but quite a long journey. It is change. The change may be difficult.

These are also important moments in the lives of their parents. The parents of the graduates know that their relationship with their children is different. The children will be more independent- well, except for money, food, and laundry- and that is an adjustment in their relationship. It is change. The change may be difficult.

The parents of the eighth graders, if they are wise, will prepare for the onslaught of adolescence and all the potential drama to be realized as their children continue to develop their own personalities, discover the dynamics of relationships, and test the boundaries of the parents. It is change. The change may be difficult.

So, given the difficulty, why change? Why can it not be the same always?

I leave you with the wisdom of Blessed John Henry Newman, "To live is to change, and to be perfect is to have changed often."

Why change? Change is inevitable, it is the way of nature. Why can it not be the same always? It cannot be the same always because humanity is in pursuit of truth. We adapt to that truth, we change.

Our graduates and new freshman are up to the challenge because they have been given an extremely good education and have benefited from the inspiration of marvelous teachers. Parenting is an ongoing learning experience. Their parents have learned thus far, they are more than able to continue exploring the richness and challenges of parenthood.

I am confident that what I have written is true.

But a part of me will still miss the les chapeaux de bete puante.

(Msgr.) Courville
