Easter Sunday of the Resurrection of the Lord

The Easter season begins today with the solemnity of Easter Sunday. For the next fifty days, from Easter Sunday to Pentecost Sunday, the church celebrates not only Jesus' resurrection from the dead, but also our participation in Christ's resurrection as people of faith. The first reading for Easter Sunday is an excerpt from Peter's speech delivered in the household of Cornelius, a Gentile believer in Christ who worked as a centurion (an officer in the Roman army). In the Acts of the Apostles, Luke tells us that Peter struggled with the idea of Gentile believers in Christ not being required to follow Jewish law and teachings. In today's first reading, we hear how Peter worked through this personal dilemma and was able to see that everyone—Jew and Gentile alike—"who believes in him will receive forgiveness of sins though his name."

The Gospel reading for Easter Sunday is Luke's account of the empty tomb. One of the unique features of Luke's version is the presence of the "two men in dazzling garments" that appeared to Mary Magdalene, Joanna, and Mary, the mother of James. At three key moments in Luke—Acts, "two men" suddenly appear: at Jesus' transfiguration (Lk 9:30-31), at Jesus' resurrection (Lk 24:4), and at Jesus' ascension (Acts 1:10). Only in the Transfiguration are the two men identified as Moses and Elijah. It could be that Luke infers Moses and Elijah are giving witness to these other events in Jesus' life. It could also be that Luke is showing how Hebrew Scriptures bore witness to and affirmed for salvation history the key moments in Jesus' life, resurrection, and ascension. Either way, the empty tomb is the first sign to the apostles that Jesus has risen from the dead!

CARDINAL'S APPEAL

Because of your support of the Cardinal's Appeal we are in a position to do immense good in many areas of concern. We are able to sustain numerous charitable offices, agencies, and programs to provide compassionate and effective assistance to those most in need. We are able to offer financial support to our parishes and schools that are struggling to serve people of all backgrounds in distressed communities. We are able to ensure excellent academic and spiritual formation in our schools, and the best of catechetical training in our parishes. And finally, we are able to care for our retired clergy and religious who have given their lives in service of the Church and to prepare our future clergy who will give theirs in the years to come.

If you have already made your contribution, we thank you for your generosity. If you are still contemplating your gift, we urge you to join your fellow parishioners and to participate in this most important program.

"We Are All Poets Here"

You are invited to join the Thomas Merton NYC community for a special talk on Merton's experience in Alaska.

"We Are All Poets Here" speaks to the spiritual confusion of our times about Thomas Merton's 1968 Journey to Alaska and a shared story about spiritual seeking presented by writer and instructor of creative writing, Kathleen Witkowska Tarr.

Ms. Tarr will describe in intimate details what Merton might have seen, felt, and experienced about wilderness Alaska and the people and dramatic landscapes he encountered a few short months before his tragic death.

Kathleen Witkowska Tarr is the author of We Are All Poets Here, a blend of memoir and biography involving the famous spiritual writer and thinker, the Trappist monk Thomas Merton.

If you wish to use a device, while attending a Sunday Mass at STM, please contact an Usher prior to the start of Mass. Unfortunately, we are still waiting for a cadre of Ushers to be formed at OLGC to manage the distribution and return of this equipment.
