TWENTY-SIXTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME September 30, 2018

"Anyone who does a mighty work in my name"

Scripture: Mark 9:38-43,45, 47-48

John said to him, "Teacher, we saw a man casting out demons in your name, and we forbade him, because he was not following us." But Jesus said, "Do not forbid him; for no one who does a mighty work in my name will be able soon after to speak evil of me. For he that is not against us is for us. For truly, I say to you, whoever gives you a cup of water to drink because you bear the name of Christ, will by no means lose his reward. "Whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for him if a great millstone were hung round his neck and he were thrown into the sea. And if your hand causes you to sin, cut it off; it is better for you to enter life maimed than with two hands to go to hell, to the unquenchable fire. And if your foot causes you to sin, cut it off; it is better for you to enter life lame than with two feet to be thrown into hell. And if your eye causes you to sin, pluck it out; it is better for you to enter the kingdom of God with one eye than with two eyes to be thrown into hell, where their worm does not die, and the fire is not quenched.

Meditation: Do you rejoice in the good that others do? Jesus reprimands his disciples for their jealousy and suspicion. They were upset that someone who was not of their company was performing a good work in the name of Jesus. They even "forbade" the man "because he was not following us". Jesus' reply is filled with wisdom: "No one who does a mighty work in my name will be able soon after to speak evil of me." Are we not like the disciples when we get upset at the good deeds of others who seem to shine more than us?

Paul says that "love is not jealous... but rejoices in the right" (1 Corinthians 13:4,6). Love does not envy others. Envy and jealousy, its counterpart, are sinful because they lead us to sorrow over what should make us rejoice - namely, our neighbor's good. The reason we may grieve over our another's good is that somehow we see that good as lessening our own value or excellence. Envy forms when we believe that the other person's advantage or possession diminishes or brings disgrace on us. Envy is contrary to love. Both the object of love and the object of envy is our neighbor's good, but by contrary movements, since love rejoices in our neighbor's good, while envy grieves over it.

REFLECTION

The Gospel of the Day is an exhortatory teaching of Jesus on the importance of His Followers to be immersed into a life of humility. Jesus was walking with His disciples, teaching them on the way, even predicting his own passion, death and resurrection. He began to speak to them of how, He – the Son of Man “would be delivered into the hands of men, and they would kill Him”.

Jesus was the epitome of self-emptiness and total self-giving. He expected His disciples to also learn from Him, and follow His lifestyle.

St Paul in his letter speaks of this self-emptying of the Lord: “He emptied Himself, taking the form of a slave. He humbled Himself, becoming obedient to death, even death on a cross

Humility was to be the only stepping-stone to greatness in the Kingdom of God. Humility was to be the lone way to be considered worthy in the Divine Way of Life. We need to examine our lives: Am I living a life of humility? Do I try to always have it “my way” and insist always on feeding my ego and my pride? Or Am I willing to let go of my crave for name and fame, and embrace a life of service? Ralph Emerson, an essayist and poet once said, “A great man is always willing to be little”.

Every Christian is expected to Follow the Way of Humility – which was the Way of Christ. He humbled Himself – and expects each of us to live in humility. He came to serve, and not to be served – and challenges us too, to be so. He let go of His personal glory and self-desires – and dares us to “let go” and “allow God”. May we humble ourselves before the Immense Presence of God, like a Child, and as Psalmist says, entrusting our cares to the Lord, find Him supporting, strengthening and lifting us up. God Bless.
