From the Pastor

Dear Parishioners,

On Wednesday, February 27, Bishop Doherty called the priests of the diocese to a day-long meeting. Part of the program was a presentation by the diocese's Victim Assistance Officer, Doris May. She spoke about what the diocese is doing to help victims of sexual abuse in Church-related activities. In my judgment, Ms. May is a compassionate and generous woman who desires to help survivors of child sexual abuse with all of her heart.

Several important points came up during the discussion wherein I learned some important things about responding to abuse in Church-related activities. The first is that when one reports abuse through Church channels, some people think that doing so means that he or she forfeits the right to pursue criminal or civil recourse. This misconception needs to be corrected. Informing Church authorities about abuse should not make one feel in any way bound not to inform law enforcement or seek legal counsel. The second point had to do with counseling. If requested, the diocese will try to accommodate requests for assistance with the expenses of counseling for victims of sexual abuse. Ms. May also indicated that whenever a victim of sexual abuse calls, she takes very seriously her obligation to be empathetic and let the survivor tell his/her story.

One question that I asked was how a pastor should deal with parishioners who remember priests who have sexually abused children. This question is a vexing one. What I took from the response was that survivors should always be allowed to tell their stories in the first person. Part of respecting those who have suffered from abuse in the Church involves recognizing that their stories are not our stories. For many of us, there is a strong temptation to talk about what one heard that "Father X" did-- even if we are not exactly sure what he did. We need to be careful not to exploit the pain of some in order to gain the attention of others.

If you have been abused sexually in an activity sponsored by the Catholic Church, please inform the local police, no matter how long ago the incident took place. I would also recommend calling Ms. May at 765-464-4988.

To Jesus through Mary,

Fr. Christopher

First Sunday of Lent
March 10, 2019

Deuteronomy 26:4-10. Psalm 91:1-2, 10-11, 12-13, 14-15. Romans 10:8-3. Luke 4:1-13.

Facing temptation. Temptation gets right in our face. It also hides around the corner. From Eden, down to today. Each of us and all of us deal with this allurements—even Jesus, who is like us in all things but sin. We can resist it all, as Jesus did, by faithful adherence to God who is always faithful.

- ◆ What will I do to resist the coaxing allurements of what is tempting me?
- ◆ How can I pray for help this Lent?
- ◆ How will I confess faith in God, and not the evil one today?

DID YOU KNOW?

There is no maintenance staff on campus Saturday or Sunday— SO: if you see trash — bend over and pick it up and dispose of it properly. If the counter in the restroom is awash with water — wipe it up! Better yet, clean up after yourself and your kids.

At each of the doors, there is a snow shovel, a broom, and container of ice melt. If there is a need to clean the walks (and you are able) take care of it ; or ask someone younger. This is our parish church—we all can see to the needs---

The Bennett High School class of 1969 will be celebrating their 50th anniversary in September 2019. The committee is trying to put together email addresses and phone numbers so the word can get out to all of our classmates so they can receive the necessary information. If you would contact Linda Earnest (Hopen) at 765-661-3333 or lindajearnest@gamil.com or Mariann Percy (Morgan) at 765-661-4049 or mariann.pearcy396@gmail.com it would be so helpful in planning this event.

All are invited to pray the Divine Mercy Chaplet on Wednesdays at 3:00pm in the chapel. If you pick up your child or grandchild from the school at 3:30, this would be a perfect time to pop in and pray this short but powerful prayer in front of the Blessed Sacrament. Other prayers/songs including the rosary will follow the chaplet. Feel free to come in at any point and leave whenever you need to! "Through the Chaplet you will obtain everything, if what you ask for is compatible with My will."
