From the Pastor

Dear parishioners,

This week we take some time to talk about worship of the Holy Eucharist outside of Mass. Vatican II called the Eucharist "the source and summit" of Christian life, which means that for a serious Catholic participating in the Eucharist is the most important thing that one does each week, much in the way that a college football team's most important day of the week is Saturday when they play with all the fans in the stands. However, in order for the team to be prepared come Saturday, practice is indispensable. In order for us to get something out of Mass on Sundays, spiritual practice is necessary during the week. There are numerous ways to prepare oneself for Sunday Mass - daily disciplines such as the rosary, prayerful reading of the Bible, prayerful silent meditation, and others.

We know as Catholics that Jesus Christ is personally present in the tabernacle outside of the celebration of the Mass. For this reason, we genuflect upon entering and leaving the church building as a token of the divine worship our Lord deserves; and try to avoid unnecessary conversation whilst in sacred space. Anytime the church building is open, we may come in and adore Jesus present sacramentally in the tabernacle by engaging in regular prayer practices mindful that we do so while being physically close to Jesus Himself.

At certain times, the priest (or a deacon) removes the Blessed Sacrament from the tabernacle and places it in a monstrance in order to facilitate its adoration. This is called exposition. Both parishes have a long standing tradition of exposition on first Fridays. At Holy Family, it takes place from 9am to 9pm and at Saint Paul from the end of the 5:30pm Mass into Saturday morning. At Saint Paul, exposition takes place with a higher degree of solemnity, often accompanied with the use of incense and chanting. As of May, first Friday exposition at Saint Paul will conclude immediately after the end of Saturday confessions at 10am with benediction. This change is in order to accommodate Saturday funerals, baptisms, and the like. I also hope that this change will make it easier to cover all of the adoration hours, which has been a challenge in recent months.

In the new year I have introduced daily times for exposition when I am in the parish. To be honest, the principal motivation for this decision is to hold myself publicly accountable for making a daily holy hour. Due to the variability of my schedule, these times will change somewhat from week to week--so keep an eye on the bulletin. There will be instances when something unavoidable comes up in my schedule and I am unable to expose the sacrament in the monstrance. In those times, there is not a reason why one may not adore Christ present in the tabernacle.

To Jesus through Mary,

Fr. Christopher

Year A gospel of the Raising of Lazarus

Ezekiel 37:12-14/Psalm 130:1-2, 3-4, 5-6, 7-8/
Romans 8:8-11/John 11:1-45

Seeking new life. To the sisters and friends of Lazarus, his illness and death caused great grieving. The gospel point today: It is never too late to spend time with the dying and those who care for the dead. Because of Jesus, death, we know, is not the final end.

- ◆ Who needs assurance that those who die “will see the glory of God”?
- ◆ How will I support the elect—those who celebrate the Scrutiny today and who seek death to sin - as I prepare for my own death?
- ◆ I will do this mercy work, praying for the living and the dead, by _____?

You may be among the majority of Catholics who miss out on the greatest events of the whole Church Year. This Holy Week do not be satisfied with just Palm Sunday of the Lord's Passion Mass and an Easter Sunday morning Mass. Instead, plan to be present for each of these unique and inspiring services:

The Holy Thursday Evening - Mass of the Lord's Supper

The Good Friday Afternoon Celebration - Celebration of the Lord's Passion

The Holy Saturday Night - Easter Vigil

Your personal prayer at home are not enough. If you can, you should be part of a devout praying community. Once people have given these three services a priority in their lives, they eagerly come back to them year after year. We promise this: your faith in God, your hope in the resurrection and your love for other saved sinners will probably never be stronger than on Saturday night after the Easter Vigil if you have prayerfully participated in all three of these great events.
