News in our Parishes

- There will be a breakfast held in Holy Angels Parish Hall the weekend of Feb. 11th from 8:00AM to 12:00Noon. $8 per person $5 per child. (Our January breakfast was a great hit and folks were grateful for having it at Holy Angels as parking is a lot easier.) Fr. Gallagher reminds you that these events are for the benefit of all our parishes and the paying of the most urgent bills. Please be as supportive as you can.

- When there is inclement weather to the point of closing the schools Fr. Adrian will not have Mass that morning for the same reason. Please check to be sure before you venture out.
- Parishioner Envelopes: may be picked up in the parish office from now on.

-Fr. Adrian met with the parish financial and pastoral councils this Wednesday past. The agenda of the meeting was a discussion about fundraising and way in which we can move forward in bringing extra income into the parish. He also forwarded to the councils material from the Dioceses of Ogdensburg concerning our combined efforts with the diocese by way of Capital Campaign to bring some added income into the parish and the diocese. More news will be forthcoming.

-We are proud and happy to report that the new roof of Holy Angels Church has been paid for due to the generosity of those who gave. Thank you, thank you, and thank you.

-The new fee schedule of cemetery prices will take effect on February 1. This was given to you in churches last weekend as an addenda to the bulletin.

-The rectory of Holy Angels is empty and may be used by local parishioners who are receiving guests in the area. A donation to the parish is appropriate if your guests use the rectory and this helps defray the expenses of keeping the rectory going throughout the year. If you would like a tour just ask Fr. Gallagher and he will gladly arrange that for you.

-There are rumors Fr. Gallagher is moving all social functions to Holy Angels. This is NOT true. Father looks at the occasion to take place and picks what is the best location to have it. The winter breakfast schedule was decided to take place at Holy Angels because that parking lot is easier for us to use in that the parking lot at St. Ann's is more difficult with ice and walking up the hill. We are also having some trouble with the bathroom facilities at St. Ann's hall and this makes going to Holy Angels more realistic. There will be occasions when St. Ann's Hall is more appropriate for others reasons.

News in our Diocese

-Paint and Sip Party, sponsored by Sacred Heart Church, Chazy. Sunday, Feb. 11 at 1:30PM with Jessie Furnia. $30.00 payable at the door. Reservations please. Call 846-7650 or 570-7747 with questions.

-The Diocese of Ogdensburg has announced the beginning of a Capital Campaign which will take place in our parishes during the months of February 2018 through April 2018. It is a four year campaign and details will be addressed soon. See your parish or finance council members to get informed.
