In Our Reading...from the Acts of the Apostles, Matthias was being counted as one of the Apostles. One person was needed to replace Judas so the lot fell to Matthias. The number twelve was once again complete. In our Gospel, we are told that we are to live in the world, but we do not belong to this world. We are to live for God and then we will know true joy. We are to be like Matthias—accept our lot in life and take the Good News of salvation to those we meet on our journey. With God’s help we will be able to weather the storms and struggles of this life. We, in this Easter season, are being prepared to carry on our life on this earth. Soon we will return to Ordinary Time so that we can put that into practice. Continued Easter Blessings...
