Body and Blood of The Lord Sunday:

Dear Friends,

Did you know? Friday June 1st, we celebrated the feast day of St. Justin, Martyr, who was killed for the faith in the middle of the 2nd century. A layman and a philosopher, he devoted himself to explaining the faith and practices of the early Church, especially to non-believers. One bit of his writing that has been preserved for us is his description of the celebration of the Eucharist, as they did it in the 2nd century. Here is the passage:

"On the day we call the day of the sun, all who dwell in the city or country gather in the same place. The memoirs of the apostles and the writings of the prophets are read, as much as time permits. When the reader has finished, he who presides over those gathered admonishes and challenges them to imitate these beautiful things. Then we all rise together and offer prayers for ourselves . . . and for all others, wherever they may be, so that we may be found righteous by our life and actions, and faithful to the commandments, so as to obtain eternal salvation. When the prayers are concluded we exchange the kiss. [sign of peace]. Then someone brings bread and a cup of water and wine mixed together to him who presides over the brethren. He takes them and offers praise and glory to the Father of the universe, through the name of the Son and of the Holy Spirit and for a considerable time he gives thanks (in Greek: eucharistian) that we have been judged worthy of these gifts. When he has concluded the prayers and thanksgivings, all present give voice to an acclamation by saying: 'Amen.' When he who presides has given thanks and the people have responded, those whom we call deacons give to those present the "eucharisted" bread, wine and water and take them to those who are absent."

Can anyone who is familiar with our celebration of the Mass read this and not realize, "hey, that's what we do!" Immediately we see the overall structure of the Eucharist in the two main parts, the Liturgy of the Word and the Liturgy of the Eucharist. In a powerful way, these words written some 1900 years ago highlight what has not changed. And in all of this, we are still doing as Jesus commanded, still doing what Jesus did. From time to time and from place to place, language and music and vestments and buildings may change. But we can be certain that we celebrate the same Eucharist as Justin attended, the same Eucharist which strengthened this second century martyr in his faith, even unto death. That's amazing. That's God's grace. Reminder that I am away for the next couple of weekends. If you need anything, please contact Deacon Dave. I am grateful for the priests who are coming in to celebrate with us.

Save the Date for the 2018 Hunger Walk!

The 33rd Annual Greater Chicago Food Depository Hunger Walk will take place on Saturday, September 8th, at

More details will be available soon, but please save the date and plan to join us to support the great work of our Food Pantry.

SACRED HEART OF JESUS

Whether statues or stained glass, the image of the Sacred Heart of Jesus can be found in churches all over the world. Jesus looks down, one hand extended out and another pointing to a heart wreathed in thorns and glowing with light. In the Sacred Heart, we see both the sorrow and the joy of the life of Christ, who became one of us out of love. "Jesus knew and loved us each and all during his life, his agony, and his Passion and gave himself up for each one of us. He has loved us all with a human heart". In the Incarnation, God becomes man. Jesus experienced the fullness of humanity, including its sufferings. June 8th is the Feast of the Sacred Heart. We remember all that Jesus endured for us. We also remember why he endured it -- out of love.
