COLLECTION FOR THE CHURCH IN LATIN AMERICA

Next Sunday, Jan. 20, there will be a special collection for the Church in Latin America.
Through your ongoing support , you have helped young people accept the challenge to grow in faith. Your generosity is helping the young people of the Archdiocese of Panama build relationships with one another, with their peers throughout Latin America, and with the rest of the world as they prepare for World Youth Day 2019. You have given these young people the opportunity to grow as leaders and to develop missionary hearts. Your contribution is appreciated.

JANUARY IS POVERTY AWARENESS MONTH

During the month of January, join the U.S. Bishops, the Catholic Campaign for Human Development and the Catholic community in the United States in taking up Pope Francis' challenge to live in solidarity with the poor.

*"I want a Church which is poor and for the poor."
-Pope Francis,
Evangelii Gaudium*

A calendar containing links to education on economic justice and resources for prayer is available on the U.S. Catholic bishops website. www.usccb.org. Or click on the link on the Holy Family website.

Reflection for Sunday, Jan. 13

Through Baptism, we share in Christ's prophetic mission as people of God "to bring glad tidings to the poor...proclaim liberty to captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to let the oppressed go free" (Lk 4:18). How can you live out your baptismal call to advocate for and with persons in poverty locally and globally?

CHICAGO TRIBUNE ARTICLE

RENEW MY CHURCH

The Chicago Tribune has run two must read articles on Renew My Church. Both articles contain detailed information about the Renew My Church process and why this change is needed for the archdiocese, and how parishioners are being impacted. Fr. Mike was interviewed for both articles and shares his insights. The link to the complete articles is on our website.

www.holyfamilychicago.org

Here are some excerpts:

...Just a couple miles to the north, at Holy Family on the Near West Side, the Rev. Mike Gabriel looked around at the warm light illuminating his church, the second-oldest in Chicago. He said he's been using the word "overwhelming" to describe the Renew My Church process. "It's a new way of learning, and sometimes relearning. It also questions your faith and what your faith is in. And your love of your neighborhood and of your people," he said. "When I was ordained, the setup was all very parochial. It was all about my parish. Now we're being called to a much larger church."

...The Rev. Mike Gabriel began to talk about the history of the church, which recently marked its 161st anniversary. The pastor patted one of the building's salmon-colored pillars fondly. Some of them have a tiny bit of a sway — not that anyone should worry, he said quickly, for the building has been tested to make sure it's safe. The wooden structure, owned by the Jesuit order but now run by the Archdiocese of Chicago, survived the Great Chicago Fire in 1871 and a dance with demolition in 1989. It's the second-oldest Catholic church in Chicago.

Holy Family is a White Sox church, Gabriel said, because the Comiskey family, longtime parishioners, donated two of the stained-glass windows in the 19th century. "I can use a short homily here," he joked. "Cubs fans, it takes them a little longer to get it."

The church had 94 weddings last year, and Gabriel celebrated 81 of them. The pastor sees marriages as a way to evangelize young people, something the archdiocese's Renew My Church plan aims to accomplish across Chicago. Newlyweds often join the parish after a positive experience preparing to marry in the church. "There's the fear that these will be the last people sitting in our pews unless we do something," he said.
