Are you...  Single  Engaged  Married  Divorced  Remarried  It's complicated.

Please check all that apply. Your marriage situation needs to be clarified before you can be received, but you can still attend RCIA classes in the meantime. If it's complicated, don't despair! When you meet with the RCIA Director, you and he can work out the details.

Are you already registered as a parishioner at St. Thomas Aquinas?  Yes  No

N.B.: This information is to help the RCIA director handle sacramental records. If you continue here at St. Thomas Aquinas after the Easter Vigil you will need to do another (slightly different) registration. Don't worry about this for now!

Thanks for your information. If you have not yet spoken with the friar who is the RCIA Director, or if he has not yet contacted you, he will sometime soon to fill out the picture of where you are coming from as you look into the Catholic Church. He will let you know what other forms/documentation you need to acquire (e.g. baptismal certificate for those baptized in another Christian communion). If you have any questions, he may be reached at rcia@stauva.org.

Note: Membership in an association with principles that contradict church teachings are prohibited (e.g. Freemasonry), per 1983 CIC canon 1374.
