

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Dear Parishioners,

The Healing Prayer Ministry we have recently initiated here in our parish is, by the mercy of God, already bearing fruit. Below is the personal testimony of a parishioner who has received the Lord's healing through prayer. Last weekend about 45 people came forward to receive prayer after our Masses. We are confident that as we continue to ask the Lord to bless us with His healing, others will continue to be healed. If you experience a healing or an improvement in your condition after receiving prayer, please share your testimony with others and let me know as well. Testimonies, like the beautiful one below, give glory to God, and build faith in others and give them the courage to come forward and ask for the Lord's healing. Many thanks to Ms. Bucklew for allowing us to share her story.

With my prayers,
Father Conley

God Knows My Heart by Denean Bucklew

For five years I was misdiagnosed for Lyme's disease. In 2013 after a correct diagnosis, I began a regimen of neurological doses of antibiotics because the disease had reached my heart and my brain. The medications themselves had their own set of side effects that I continue to suffer from today. The pain, the fatigue, and widespread secondary issues from the disease, including food allergies and sensitivities, significant weight gain, a heart murmur, vision problems, sleep issues, weakened immune system, the pain, did I mention the pain, were at times simply unbearable. With treatment I have come so far that I wouldn't dare complain about how I feel. I was truly blessed when God led me to one Doctor who saved my life.

I was talking to one of my girls' teachers at St. Mary's Bryantown one day a few months ago when I was having some trouble. She told me that I really should consider coming to the next healing seminar that the parish was having. I said I couldn't possibly, I feel so grateful for the healing I have received already, I feel that they are so many people out there that have it so much worse than I do. Is this not my cross to bear? She said that many people feel that way but strongly suggested I give it a chance. So, when Father Conley announced the day I signed up.

I was not comfortable going, I was nervous, I didn't know what to expect. I still felt like I really didn't have any business complaining. Many times, I considered leaving, despite the fact that the information was very informative, refreshing, and enlightening. Another dear friend from the school and church kept an eye on me. It seemed that every time I considered leaving, she instinctually checked on me to make sure I was okay.

When it came to the end of the retreat and folks were lining up to participate in the healing prayer sessions offered in groups, I was overwhelmed with fear and again the sense of unworthiness. I walked over to the church and waited for Mass. During Mass, Father Conley indicated that, much to my surprise, they would also be doing the healing prayer sessions after church. I suddenly felt fearless, worthy, still a little nervous because I still didn't know what to expect or what to do, but I felt like I just had to do it now. I went to one of the prayer groups, who asked me what I was praying for. I said for the pain from the Lyme disease I've suffered, from emotional scarring and healing from several abusive situations I have encountered. They touched me, they held my hand, and we prayed.

I went home that evening, business as usual. When I woke up the next morning, I thought, wow, did I just sleep through the night? I got out of bed and as I walked into the kitchen I suddenly felt taller and I was free of so much pain that had held me for 21 years. That pain was NOT the Lyme disease. Since 1997 I have suffered extreme pain in my back, which grew over time. I have multiple herniated discs in my low back and in my neck, with arthritis and bone spurs. I have been through countless injections in my spine, physical therapy, multiple Chiropractors, Yoga, Pilates, I tried everything except acupuncture. The pain from my spine was always there. Anything from the Lyme was just above and beyond this part of me that I learned to deal with. I never wanted to have surgery despite being told by many doctors that was my only option. Over just the past month I gave in and surrendered to God. On my knees every night, desperate to sleep, desperate to just live without this pain, I begged Him to please help me. I said, Lord I know you can do anything, and I ask you to please either take my pain, guide me to surgery, give me a new spine, something, or if it is Your Will help me live with it because I feel like I just can't take it anymore. Only God knew my heart. I didn't even mention my back or my neck during the healing prayer session.

For the first time in nearly half of my life I feel like a new person. God truly touched me through these people and gave me an amazing gift. One of the prayer group members told me the next day, who I just happened to run into at an event outside of church that very next afternoon, to keep praying- things will only get better. Every day I feel better, I feel free, I feel those other things I prayed for are even starting to lift. I am on my knees every day thanking the good Lord for this gift, and praying that He may touch others as He has me. I honestly feel like He gave me that new spine I asked Him for.

God knows my heart. He led me to the right people, the right places in time. He knew what I needed most, and I am forever blessed and grateful. I am His child and He does think I'm worthy. Amen.
