How must that woman in today's gospel felt after standing in the middle of a crowd where Jesus was teaching? Caught in adultery, was she ashamed, embarrassed or remorseful?

Jesus was well aware of what she was feeling and challenged anyone without sin to "be the first to throw a stone at her."

What about you? How would you feel if you had to face your family and friends for your transgressions? Who amongst them would throw the first stone?

When Jesus told the woman that he did not condemn her but to go and sin no more, he was expressing his desired to free her from her guilt and sin.

Jesus knows we are sinners and does the same for us. This freedom is a gift that should open our hearts to change.

We have an opportunity to open our hearts to change this next Wednesday (April 10th) at 7:00 PM during our Communal Penance Service.

"I continue my pursuit toward the goal, the prize of God's upward calling, in Christ Jesus." (Philippians 3:14)*F.
