A HUMBLE WITNESS

Which of your friends demonstrates the virtue of humility? How important is that person to you? To your family and community? The truly humble deny they have obtained the virtue. Indeed, humility is a virtue measured by the degrees into which people grow. It is a virtue of process, lived experience. It is the virtue of constantly realizing one's place before God. By deferring to One that was greater, John showed the world he knew his place before his Maker. He showed true humility. Humility is defined as "the virtue that expresses a spirit of deference." John's humility was rooted in his vision and his witness. He saw the Spirit descent upon and dwell in Jesus. And he pointed to Jesus as the "Lamb of God," the Father's true Son. In the gospel, John showed humility through his witness to the Greater One. John's witness was a command and a statement. The command was "LOOK!" The statement described the object of the command: the "Lamb of God," the one taking away the sin of the world. John lived his life in deference to the One God would point out. He lived most of that life in ignorance of the final outcome, but in hope God would make that outcome plain. His life gives us a primary example of Christian humility, living in deference to God's will. John was truly the humble witness. This gospel shows us the two dimensions of humble witness, the sight of faith and the witness to God's power. Where do you see God working in your life this week? Who have you told about God's activity?

GOSPEL REFLECTION

A light has arisen. Following the arrest of John, Jesus takes up the message first preached by John, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." Jesus' light shines brightly leading others to God. Seeing the light of Christ is often easy. However, we are not often willing to follow, as we are called to die to ourselves. How is God asking us to change in order to follow Christ more faithfully?

BISHOP VASQUEZ' PRAYER REQUEST:

That we would have the courage to follow where Christ leads even if it calls for us to abandon our familiar and comfortable ways in order to be free to serve others, we pray ...
