The Twelfth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Happy Father's Day to all the men who have shared in God's gift of life, both human and divine.

Prayer- What:

St. Ignatius gives three steps for following Jesus in everyday living, especially in making the big decisions of life and growing in virtue.

Awareness of the interior movements of your soul, both natural and supernatural.

Understanding whether the supernatural
movements are of God or of the enemy.

Action to accept the promptings of the Good Spirit or reject the pushing of the enemy.

In Awareness of the passions (emotions)/
interior movements of your soul, you become aware of what motivates you to your actions.

In Understanding which emotions are from the good Spirit, which from the enemy, and which are simply natural passions of being human, we begin learning St.
Ignatius' rules for Action, so that we are never helpless in spiritual desolation, and never ungrateful in spiritual consolation.

Last week, I spoke of Ignatius' first rule for action, which is to not make a spiritual change in spiritual desolation, but be firm and steadfast in commitments made when in consolation.

If we just stopped there, it would be all that much help.

This week, I focus on what action to take when in desolation, all of which revolve around fighting the desolation itself, not any commitments we have made that we (may) think are the cause of our desolation.

Next week, at the halfway point in this series on prayer, I'll speak on the remaining rules of Ignatius, which keep us balanced and healthy in the spiritual life.

St. Ignatius' 14 Rules

Rule 5: In time of spiritual desolation never to make a spiritual change; but to be firm and constant in the resolutions and determination in which one was the day preceding such desolation, or in the determination in which he was in the preceding consolation. Because, as in consolation it is rather the good spirit who guides and counsels us, so in desolation it is the enemy, with whose counsels we cannot take a course to decide rightly.

Rule 6: The sixth: Although in desolation we ought not to change our first resolutions, it is very helpful intensely to change ourselves against the same desolation, as by insisting more on (1) prayer, (2) meditation, (3) on much examination, and by (4) giving ourselves some suitable way of doing penance.

A PRAYER FOR FATHERS

“God our Father, We give you thanks and praise for fathers young and old. We pray for young fathers newly embracing their vocation; May they find courage and perseverance to balance work, family, and faith in joy and sacrifice. We pray for our own Fathers around the world whose children are lost or suffering; May they know that the God of compassion walks with them in their sorrow. We pray for men who are not fathers but still mentor and guide us with fatherly love and advice. We remember fathers, grandfathers, great grandfathers who are no longer with us but who live forever in our memory and nourish us with their love. Amen.”

Benediction, Adoration, & Rosary on Tuesdays, 7:00 pm

Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, Fridays, 1:00—5:00 pm

NOTE OF THANKS— Thank you so much to all parishioners who have already responded to the Prayer and Action group with donations of cash & food! Your generosity is very much appreciated!

PETER'S PENCE COLLECTION

Next week, our Archdiocese will take up the Peter's Pence Collection, which provides Pope Francis with the funds he needs to carry out his charitable works around the world. The proceeds benefit our brothers and sisters on the margins of society, including victims of war, oppression, and disasters. Join our Holy Father as a witness of charity to those who are suffering.

One Volunteer Needed for the Catholic Charities summer lunch program in the Park on Thursday, July 28th. If you can help out on that day, please contact Marilyn in the Parish Office.

Marriage Minute - How do our children experience the tangible love of God? Pope Francis reminds us in "Amoris Laititia" of the importance and dignity of being a parent when he said, "The love of parents is the means by which God our Father shows his own love." Aside from the obvious mission of participating with God in the creation of life, each parent has a daily mission to make God's love concrete by the way they love their children. Spending quality time, providing food and shelter, teaching virtue and morals, showing affection, offering forgiveness, and even using proper discipline are all ways children grow into the experience of God's love. As we celebrate Father's Day, take stock of the qualities your dad or husband have that reflect God the Father, and be aware of the noble mission of Fatherhood. Especially in this year of Mercy, remember that no earthly dad is perfect.

MARK YOUR CALENDARS— Totus Tuus is coming to Annunciation again this year. Mark July 17th through July 22 on your calendar and plan on attending. # Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

“This kingdom and this salvation, which are the key words of Jesus Christ’s evangelization, are available to every human being as grace and mercy, ... each individual gains them through a total interior renewal which the Gospel calls metanoia; it is a radical conversion, a profound change of mind and heart.”<sup>1</sup> This week’s Gospel reading gives us a peek into a major moment of metanoia in the disciples’ lives. Jesus, having revealed himself to the disciples by words and deeds, initiates a moment of conversion—a time of faith brought to fruition, a time of movement from vagueness to clarity, and from indecision to action. The two questions Jesus asked Peter required Peter to make a decision as to whether he was going to hide behind the indecision and meaningless speculation of the crowd or whether he was going to courageously and openly take a stand on what he believed. Perhaps being a fisherman he knew that any dead fish can float downstream. It takes no effort to go through life ever musing with others about Jesus. Let’s face it, he is a good topic of conversation. But it takes strength and courage to openly declare that you believe he is the Christ, the Son of God and are going to follow him. Once we have made a similar declaration it demonstrates that we have undergone a “radical conversion, a profound change of mind and heart,” and it calls for a continuing radical conversion and profound change. Conversion and change disrupt the status quo and complacency of our lives. In Jesus’ words it requires that we continuously deny ourselves—something for which we have had little experience and for which we have had little desire. Fortunately, Jesus introduces a paradox, a statement that seems contradictory to common sense but which is apparently true, to motivate and focus the disciples on the rewards of denying one’s self. For, “Whoever would save his life will lose it; and whoever loses his life for my sake, he will save it.” We can almost see the disciples quizzically look at one another and hear their silently mouthed question, “How can these things be?” Jesus, of course, is referring to the exchanged life wherein we are able to exchange a mediocre existence for one of purpose and vitality. This seems contradictory since many of us believe that a life of self-gratification and selfpreservation will lead to peace, happiness, and prosperity. It never has and never will for more than a moment or two. The richest, most powerful man in the world learned this lesson and left us an accounting of his conclusions. Solomon had unbridled power, uncountable riches, and wives and lovers without number yet concluded that they only secured emptiness. “All things are full of weariness; a man cannot utter it; the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing ...”<sup>2</sup> The exchanged life of which Jesus speaks in this paradox is the happy exchange of emptiness for a deeply satisfying relationship with the living God and a life filled with purpose, and “A fountain ... to cleanse from sin and uncleanness” and participation in God’s eternal promises as the other readings attest. Unfortunately the response of many to this exchanged life creates an enigma—something difficult to understand and explain. If these two truths, that Jesus is the Christ and that we can exchange a life of endless mediocrity and dissatisfying emptiness for a deeply satisfying relationship with God, are indeed true, and they are, why would someone not choose to embrace and follow Jesus. You can’t explain it. As Pope Paul VI explained this kingdom and salvation is available to every human being—including you.
