This week in Catholic History: Preparing for Easter, a little on the man Jesus rose from the dead as a prefiguration of his own Resurrection: Lazarus was a disciple and friend of Jesus. He was the brother of Martha and Mary, and resided in Bethany, a suburb of Jerusalem, Israel. His being raised from the dead is the 7th and final sign in the first half of Gospel according to St. John, and is assurance that we too, will share in Christ's victory over death when the day comes for it to claim our mortal bodies. I pray this last recorded miracle of Jesus before his own suffering, death, and resurrection helps each of us share in the faith Martha proclaims: "I have come to believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, the one who is coming into the world."

New Keyboard: The new keyboard has arrived! It is a piano, that gives us the flexibility of other (digital) instruments also. It will make a very nice addition to our liturgies. Thank you to all who have already made a donation; we have over half the money raised. If you'd like to contribute to this fund, please simply mark it as such in the collection, or drop it off by the office. Thank you! (Just as a heads up: so long as we run in the black, I'd like to do one medium sized project each year as a way of continual improvement for the parish; for example, the new tables last year and the piano this year. If you have ideas for these projects, please visit with me anytime.)

Marriage Minute- Crosses for married couples come in all different shapes and sizes. Whether in the form of death, illness, financial troubles or conflict, the “bad times” can really test our resolve! In this week’s Gospel, Jesus waited two days before setting out to help his dying friend Lazarus, and the delay resulted in his friend’s death. In our suffering, we can often feel like Jesus is taking forever to help, and we fear he may come too late. We can keep two important things in mind in these situations. First, “Jesus wept” over his friend’s death, and therefore, suffers with us. Secondly, he allowed Lazarus to die in order to bring about a greater good. As we approach Holy Week, let’s offer our pain to our merciful Savior, trusting in His wisdom and confident that the trial we bear will produce great fruit! # Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

“Don’t miss that call!” seems to be the prevailing sentiment of U.S. society these days. Who of us hasn’t had a telephone conversation, even a long distance call, interrupted because the person with whom we were talking needing to answer a “call waiting” signal. The assumption being that the incoming call may be more important than the current call. We use all kind of devices for people to get through to us and often walk around with a cell phone in our hand so that we don’t miss that all important call. Wouldn’t it be wonderful to have a spiritual cell phone so that God could reach us at anytime day or night by simply calling our spiritual cell phone number? I wonder how many of us would walk around with the cell phone turned off, or even worse allow God’s call to be interrupted by a seemingly more important “call waiting” signal from our world. In this week’s Gospel reading, we see Martha and Mary being linked by faith to Jesus and his message of resurrection and life. “When Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went to meet him.” Mary heard Jesus’ call through Martha, “The Master is here and calls for you.” And as soon as she heard that Jesus called for her, “she rose quickly and went to him.” In this fifth week of Lent, do we hear Jesus’ call or are we disconnected? Are we rising in faith to respond to his call or are we distracted by the many cares of our world? Imagine what would have happened, or should we say what would not have happened, if Martha and Mary had not responded in faith to Jesus. What a glorious experience and message they would have missed. Jesus chose to punctuate the message of resurrection and life by raising Lazarus bodily from death. This is the third time Jesus raised someone from the dead, demonstrating each time that he holds the keys to life. But it was in this instance, a precursor of his own death and resurrection, that he chose to clearly articulate the promise of resurrection and life for those who believe. “Thus the human being linked in faith to Christ possesses a life that will outlive death and that already here on earth reaches into eternity. It is as Christ himself once expressed it: ‘Amen, amen, I say to you, he who hears my word, and believes him who sent me, has life everlasting, and does not come to judgement, but has passed from death to life’ (John 5:24)... After Golgotha death was never the same. To believe in Jesus Christ means to share in his deathlessness, as he himself said we should: He who believes shall have life everlasting, even in death.” 1 We read the story of Lazarus and marvel, one who was dead for four days had risen alive. But there is a more marvelous truth hidden in this week’s readings. Ezekiel foretells the promise that God will put his Spirit within us and we will live, really live, not just physically but eternally. The indwelling of us by God does not happen after we die but begins here and now. “For every believer regenerated in Christ, no matter in what part of the whole world he may be, breaks with that ancient way of life that derives from original sin, and by rebirth is transformed into a new man [or woman]. Henceforth he is reckoned to be of the stock, not of his earthly father, but of Christ, who became Son of Man precisely that men could become sons of God; for unless in humility he had come down to us, none of us by our merits could ever go up to him. “Therefore the greatness of the gift which he has bestowed on us demands an appreciation proportioned to its excellence; for blessed Paul the Apostle truly teaches: ‘we have received not the spirit of this world, but the Spirit which is from God, that we might understand the gifts bestowed on us by God’ ” 2 How different must have been the lives of Lazarus, Martha, and Mary after this experience. Not simply because Lazarus lived again after being dead for four days, but because they came to experience a life “that already here on earth reaches into eternity.” Martha’s words to Mary echo in our ears, “The Master is here and calls for you.” Jesus
