MARRIAGE MINUTE

-Do you ever feel alone in your marriage or parenting? In this week's Gospel, Jesus reassures us that he is present where two gather in his name. In the stress of everyday life, we can feel isolated or disconnected from our spouse or God. One simple thing we can do to recover that connection and overcome the isolation is to simply pray with our spouse for our marriage and our children. Praying together doesn't guarantee our desired outcome, but it does always: • Require vulnerability, and therefore bring us closer to our spouse • Remind us that we have an all-powerful Father who only wants what is best for us • Open us up to possibilities we did not see before. For tips on praying with your spouse, visit www.JoyfulMarriageProject.com

WORLDWIDE MARRIAGE ENCOUNTER MARRIED COUPLES.

Getting ready for school means lots of time spent on your children. After school begins, why not give yourselves some time together? Make a Worldwide Marriage Encounter Weekend! The next Weekend in Kansas City is November 10-12, 2017. For more

Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

For sixteen years they had not spoken to each other, nor attended family occasions where the other was present. For sixteen years a cloud had hung over family and friends knowing that no event, no matter how special, would be complete because one or the other, or usually both, would choose to absent themselves. That's what unforgiveness, bitterness and rancor does. It poisons the atmosphere of all it touches. Now with the sudden and tragic death of their beloved parents they were once again together, weeping in their grief. Amazingly, neither could remember what it was that divided them. Their grief was doubly bitter not only for the tragic loss of both parents, but also for the tragic sixteen years of heartbreak they brought on their parents, others, and themselves through their practice of unforgiveness. We all know of or have participated in similar instances of harboring unforgiveness, bitterness and rancor, perhaps not lasting for as long or being as pronounced, but nevertheless equally damaging. Sometimes we have observed it within our human families and sometimes we have observed it within our spiritual families. In either case, it should not be so, for it is our Father's will that we dwell together in unity. "How important a place the unanimity and harmony of brothers hold with God! We can know from this very fact that the Lord has clearly said that when two or three pray in unanimity, the Father grants everything from heaven. For with God nothing is more pleasing than brotherly peace, nothing better than unanimity and harmony, according to what is written: 'Behold, how good and pleasant it is when brothers dwell in unity.'" (Chromatius, from Ancient Christian Commentary on Scripture, Vol 1b) This Sunday's reading in Ezekiel reminds us of the responsibility and power a community of faith has to its individual members and the responsibility and power individual members have to their faith community. We are to watch for one another's souls, love requires it as the second reading points out. Not only does love require it, love specifies the manner in which our watch care for one another should be conducted. In the Gospel reading Jesus provides advice for bringing about repentance, reconciliation and restoration between brothers. He offers the only antidote for unforgiveness, bitterness and rancor; unconditional love. It is important to recognize that at the heart of Jesus' concern is the spiritual welfare of the sinner. There is no hint of proving the sinner wrong nor of shaming or punishing the wrongdoer. Rather Jesus' motive is to correct the individual and bring about restoration in as gracious and inconspicuous a manner as possible. It is out of a heart of love and concern for the wrongdoer's spiritual wellbeing that we engage in the process which Jesus enumerated, and not for some kind of personal satisfaction. If it is a case of simply being personally wronged we would not need to go through such an elaborate process, we would need to simply practice forgiveness as we have been instructed. But out of a love for the Father and his desire for unity, and out of a love for our brother or sister, and a concern for their spiritual welfare Christ counsels us to go through this process of repentance, reconciliation, and

There will be a work schedule sign-up sheet for Friday and Saturday September 22-23. We would appreciate donations of cinnamon rolls to offer as a breakfast option and some hamburger buns, the rest of the necessary items have been donated or provided by Altar Society. We will serve breakfast both mornings and offer a hot meal for lunch or dinner on Friday, and lunch Saturday. It is time to start thinking of items you would like to donate to our annual Garage Sale on Sept. 21 & 22! We accept about anything, limiting clothing to clean, gently used items. Please let us know as soon as possible of any larger, consigned items. Items will be accepted into the north annex door Wed., Sept. 20th 6:00p.m. to 8:00p.m. and Thurs., Sept. 21st from 1:00 p.m. to 8:00p.m. If you need another time to drop off items, please call 785-532-9925 or 785-556-0259.
