

VISITING SEMINARIAN

Anh Vu

We welcome seminarian Anh Vu (32) to our Parish! Originally from Dong Nai, Vietnam, Anh entered St. John Fisher Seminary in Stamford, CT in 2011, where he studied English his first year and then entered Sacred Heart University in 2013 graduating with a BA in Philosophy. He then entered St. Joseph Seminary in Yonkers, NY in 2016 and just finished his second year of Theology and will complete his Masters in 2020. Prior to coming to the U.S., he studied mechanical engineering in Vietnam.

Anh comes from a large Catholic family with 2 sisters and 5 brothers. His older brother is a seminarian in Brooklyn, NY and his younger brother is in a religious order in Vietnam.

Anh enjoys spending time with his fellow seminarians, going to the movies, watching baseball and going out. He also enjoys playing soccer. He is a very friendly, humble young man, looking to serve and go where our Lord leads him. Let us welcome Anh and make him feel at home! He will be with us until the end of July.
