

Danny Cheng
May 2013

I still remember my first interview with Pat, words just flow out of me as if I was waiting for someone to ask the right questions all along. I lived my whole life inside my comfort zone but from the moment I stepped inside the RCIA circle, God set me free. I let down the barriers that I had created for myself and shared every deep and personal moment. It was more than just learning Catholic doctrines and traditions, exploring my own spirituality helped me see the light from the darkest corner. I was always searching for Christ, just needed RCIA to lead the way. Thank you, Pat and the whole RCIA core team.