Sunday's Reflections
1 Peter 3:15-18

MEANINGFUL SUFFERING

Suffering is easier to accept if it serves some purpose. Some suffering seems totally senseless—the loss of an innocent life, the abandonment of a good dream, or devastation by forces of nature. But if suffering can bring about some perceivable good, it is easier to endure.

Perhaps this is what gave Jesus strength to endure the suffering at the end of his life. To unbelievers, his death must have seemed a complete waste, but in the eyes of God it was a perfect sacrifice offering redemption to the world. The First Letter of Peter says that Christ suffered for sins once, "that he might lead you to God." His suffering had a purpose.

Through the suffering of Christ, we come closer to God. Through faith in God we can more easily accept our suffering for the sake of others, especially if it leads them also to Christ.

Sometimes, paradoxically, it is our faith that brings on suffering. We have hope when the world prefers despair. We act gently when others prefer to fight. We build up others when they prefer to defame. The tension between doing good and doing evil tempts the Christian to sin. But when we are strong in faith, we live peacefully in the Spirit.

The journey of faith may be marred by suffering, but it leads to a good reward. It unites us with the suffering of our savior, and it leads others to Christ.
