

“If today we are remember these brothers and sisters of ours who lived before us and are now in heaven, they are there because they were washed in the blood of Christ, that is our hope, and this hope does not disappoint. If we live our lives with the Lord, he will never disappoint us.” - Pope Francis

RETIRED FUND FOR RELIGIOUS

Aging religious need your help. In the United States today, there are more than 33,000 senior Catholic sisters, brothers, and religious order priests. These religious worked tirelessly in Catholic schools, hospitals, and agencies, usually for little to no pay. As a result, many religious communities lack adequate savings for retirement and eldercare. Your gift to today's collection for the Retirement Fund for Religious helps provide medications, nursing care, and more. Please be generous.

Peace and good!

As we reflect upon the mystery of death during this month of Remembrance – All Souls, I would like to highlight two points. The first point is the teaching of the Church in regards to death which is found in the Catechism of the Catholic Church. The second point is a brief reflection upon the death of Saint John Paul II.

The Catechism of the Catholic Church (2000) offers the following teaching on death:

The meaning of Christian death: Because of Christ, Christian death has a positive meaning: “For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain” (Phil. 1:21). “The saying is sure: if we have died with him, we will also live with him” (2 Tim. 2:11). What is essentially new about Christian death is this: through Baptism, the Christian has already “died with Christ” sacramentally, in order to live a new life; and if we die in Christ’s grace, physical death completes this “dying with Christ” and so completes our incorporation into him in his redeeming act...

In death, God calls man to himself. Therefore, the Christian can experience a desire for death like St. Paul’s: “My desire is to depart and be with Christ.” He can transform his own death into an act of obedience and love towards the Father, after the example of Christ: “I want to see God and, in order to see him, I must die.” (St. Teresa of Avila, Life, chap.1) “I am not dying; I am entering life.” (St. Therese of Lisieux, The Last Conversations). (1010 & 1011)

Each time I reflect upon the mystery of death and Francis of Assisi’s embrace of sister death, I am reminded of the death of Saint John Paul II.

The late Dutch spiritual writer, Father Henri Nouwen, shared the following insight which captured my emotions and feelings as the world mourned the death of Saint John Paul II. Nouwen wrote:

Sometimes our sorrow overwhelms us so much that we no longer can believe in joy. Life just seems a cup filled to the brim with war, violence, rejection, loneliness, endless disappointments, (and death).

At times like this we need our friends to remind us that crushed grapes can produce tasty wine. It might be hard for us to trust that any joy can come from our sorrow, but when we start taking steps in the direction of our friends’ advice, even when we ourselves are not yet able to feel the truth of what they say, the joy that seemed to be lost may be found again and our sorrow may become livable.

May we have the holiness and courage to be open to God’s will in our lives.

In the peace of Francis of Assisi,

Father Tom, TOR

STEWARDSHIP

TIME • TALENT • TREASURE

The Diocese of Arlington has asked us to support an increased offertory program during the fall months. The pastoral staff has selected the month of November for this program. During the month of November, you will receive the following information regarding this program:

- weekly bulletin reflections on the gift of stewardship – Time, Talent, Treasure;
- letter from the pastoral staff focusing on the increased offertory program; and
- request from the pastoral team for each of us to reflect upon the time, talent, and treasure which we share with the parish community.

As shared in the previous reflection, we often speak of stewardship in the context of "the three t's": time, talent, and treasure. Stewardship is a way of life and our relationship with Christ is at the heart of it all. I offer the following description of stewardship – sharing time:

How we use our time says much about what we value and where our priorities are. Time for God, family, for others, for ourselves: when all are balanced well, we feel our lives are in order. Are you being a good steward of the minutes, hours, days, months and years that God is giving you?

Pope Francis shares the following insight in regards to sharing time:

Worshipping the Lord means giving him the place that he must have; worshipping the Lord means stating, believing — not only by our words — that he alone truly guides our lives; worshipping the Lord means that we are convinced before him that he is the only God, the God of our lives, the God of our history. (April 14, 2013)

We foster and nurture this relationship with Christ by:

- Making prayer a priority in our lives;
- Attending Mass and the Sacrament of Reconciliation more frequently;
- Weaving more prayer into and throughout the day;
- Finding time to study Scripture and be nurtured through spiritual reading;
- Participating in faith formation and events in our parish; and
- Stopping into the church for quiet time alone with God.

Stewardship of time requires us to look at our lives, twenty-four hours each day, as an opportunity to serve the Lord and our sisters and brothers. We read in Scripture, "As each one had received a gift, use it to serve one another as good stewards of God's varied grace" (1 Pt. 4:10).

These programs are not sex education classes but an endeavor to instruct our young people with regard to living a chaste life in conformity with God’s commandments and to foster a safe environment. Detailed parental information and an optional “Opt-Out” form will be enclosed in your child’s green communication folder.

Each week we will have insightful quotes and reflections on consecrated life.

Say a word of gratitude to the saintly folks around you today—the moms and dads balancing family and work, the parish priests comforting those who mourn, the deacons ministering to the sick in hospitals, the religious sisters and brothers teaching and advocating for the poor, the spiritual writers offering enrichment to hungry souls--and everyone else in between.
