DIVINE WORSHIP ORDER OF HOLY MASS

Low Mass 8:00 am, Sung Mass 10:30am, Low Mass 6:00 pm

See Mass card or Missalette

Collect

O Lord, who never failest to help and govern them whom thou dost bring up in thy steadfast fear and love: keep us, we beseech thee, under the protection of thy good providence; and make us to have a perpetual fear and love of thy holy Name; though Jesus Christ thy Son our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

First Reading

Genesis 3:9-15

[After Adam had eaten of the tree,] the Lord God called to him, and said to him, "Where are you?" And he said, "I heard the sound of you in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself." He said, "Who told you that you were naked? Have you eaten of the tree of which I commanded you not to eat?" The man said, "The woman whom you gave to be with me, she gave me fruit of the tree, and I ate." Then the Lord God said to the woman, "What is this that you have done?" The woman said, "The serpent beguiled me, and I ate." The Lord God said to the serpent, "Because you have done this, cursed are you above all cattle, and above all wild animals; upon your belly you shall go, and dust you shall eat all the days of your life. I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed; he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel."

Responsorial Psalm

130:1-8

R/. With the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption.

Out of the depths I cry to you, O Lord!
Lord, hear my voice!
Let your ears be attentive
to the voice of my supplications! R/.

If you, O Lord, should mark iniquities,
Lord, who could stand?
But there is forgiveness with you,
that you may be feared. R/.

I wait for the Lord, my soul waits,
and in his word I hope;
my soul wait for the Lord
more than watchmen for the morning,
more than watchmen for the morning. R/.

O Israel, hope in the Lord!
For with the Lord there is mercy,
and with him is plenteous redemption.
And he will redeem Israel from all his iniquities. R/.

Second Reading

2 Corinthians 4:13-5:1

Brethren: Since we have the same spirit of faith as he had who wrote, "I believed, and so I spoke," we too believe, and so we speak, knowing that he who raised the Lord Jesus will raise us also with Jesus and bring us with you into his presence. For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God. So we do not lose heart. Though our outer man is wasting away, our inner man is being renewed every day. For this slight momentary affliction is preparing for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all comparison, because we look not to the things that are seen but to the things that are unseen; for the things that are seen are transient, but the things that are unseen are eternal. For we know that if the earthly tent we live in is destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

8:00 am & 6:00 pm Masses chanted by priest and people.
Chanted by the choir at the 10:30 am Mass

Alleluia

Alleluia.

V/. Now shall the ruler of this world be cast out,
says the Lord;
and I, when I am lifted up from the earth,
will draw all men to myself.

Alleluia.

Gospel

Mark 3:20-35

At that time: Jesus went home with his disciples; and the crowd came together again, so that they could not even eat. And when his friends heard it, they went out to seize him, for they said, "He is beside himself." And the scribes who came down from Jerusalem said, "He is possessed by Beelzebul, and by the prince of demons he casts out the demons." And he called them to him, and said to them in parables, "How can Satan cast out Satan? If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. And if a house is divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand. And if Satan has risen up against himself and is divided, he cannot stand, but is coming to an end. But no one can enter a strong man's house and plunder his goods, unless he first binds the strong man; then indeed he may plunder his house. "Truly, I say to you, all sins will be forgiven the sons of men, and whatever blasphemies they utter; but whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit never has forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin"--for they had said, "He has an unclean spirit." And his mother and his brethren came; and standing outside they sent to him and called him. And a crowd was sitting about him; and they said to him, "Your mother and your brethren are outside, asking for you." And he replied, "Who are my mother and my brethren?" And looking around on those who sat about him, he said, "Here are my mother and my brethren! Whoever does the will of God is my brother, and sister, and mother."

Prayers We May Learn for the Summer:

The "Memorare"

Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help, or sought thy intercession was left unaided. Inspired by this confidence I fly unto thee, O Virgin of virgins, my Mother. To thee do we come; before thee we kneel, sinful and sorrowful, O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not our petitions, but in thy mercy hear and answer them. Amen.

To the Parishioners of St. Mary the Virgin,

School is done, for the moment. Vacation time is upon us. It is also time for change and breaking of routine; perhaps to visit family; go the beach or mountains. But in all circumstances may we seek to renew, refresh and restore. At the beginning of the summer when I was age 15, my Dad calmly announced that my brother and I were not going to sit around all summer; that we were going to find summer jobs. How, we asked? Well, you get on your bike and knock on doors. We did, but that change was one of the scariest things I had to do up until then. I ended up washing dishes at the local Howard Johnson's restaurant, the chain to eat back then, now all gone. My brother got a job as cook at the local A&W drive-in hamburger stand. They were way before Sonic. I earned money for my car I was learning to rebuild (with my Dad's help); it got me out of the house and gave me a lifetime of experiences and stories. At first, the change of working late into the night came as a rude shock, but I and the family got used to it.

Msgr. Pope wrote a couple of years ago that there are three words that can change your well-being in our physical, emotional and spiritual life. They are: Move, Breathe and Trust. , "Move" pertains to the physical, to the body; "Breathe" to the emotional and psychological, and "Trust" to the spiritual. When he says "move" he means exercise. Walk daily if you can. If you need to start by just walking half a block and back, start there and increase it every day. But move. Take the stairs when you can. Get off the sofa. "Walking is low impact, and gentle. It promotes aerobic breathing, rather than the panting of running. It requires little or no equipment, and provides time for praying, listening to music or podcasts, talking with a walking partner."

Breathe. "Most of us don't know how to breathe. We breathe with our chest and only fill the top of our lungs. It isn't hard to learn how to breathe more properly, how to use the belly to breathe...To breathe is to get in touch with our innermost self, and also our body. Breathing is very spiritual. As we breathe in, we receive the blessings of God. As we breathe out we let go of inner stresses and struggles. Exhaling is a form of release, inhaling a form of receiving...Deep breathing can be very relaxing, it reduces stress and is a wonderful way to prepare ourselves to pray. Too many of us are out of touch with our body and our very self. Breathing can reconnect us to our self and to God. Too many of us store up a lot of stress. We need to learn how to exhale. Too many of us live on fumes. We need to learn how to draw more deeply from the life-breath God offers."

Trust. "The root of all my anxiety, I have ever experienced, comes down to one fact, I did not trust God. To the degree that I have learned to trust God, I am less anxious. In fact I will say, I rarely get anxious anymore. It is the result of a 15 year journey out of panic disorder into trust. First the illusion of "control" is a big enemy of trust in God. Control is ultimately an illusion. You may have a few things under your control, such as what you will eat for dinner, where you will shop for clothes etc. But even the things and plans you have, and think you can control are based on innumerable things that you cannot control, like the next beat of your heart...We always think that if we can be in control we will be less anxious. This is not so. The great paradox about serenity is that acceptance of the fact that there are many things we cannot control reduces anxiety and brings peace. "You are not in control" is a "hard" truth that brings great serenity and induces trust if we come to accept it." We forget our gratitude to God. To remember is to discipline my mind and heart to ponder how good and faithful God has been; to spend time every day considering the gifts and graces of God, how He has sustained and provided for me. This makes me grateful and different. It also builds trust, and trust drives our fears, resentments, and all forms of anxiety. Through gratitude I become a man of hope. That is, I confidently expect God's help and providence to see me through to my goal of being with Him in Glory."

In our "changes" this summer, don't forget to move, breathe and trust.

ad Jesum per Mariam (to Jesus through Mary)
