Religious freedom includes two important aspects - freedom from and freedom for. “Freedom from” is probably familiar and what most of us think of as freedom. It means that we are to be free from coercion. The state is not an all-powerful institution that can force people to act against their consciences.

The right to be free from coercion limits the power of the state. But this freedom must be paired with a “freedom for,” a positive orientation to seeking and acting in accordance with the truth. People have both a right and a duty to seek religious truth. Freedom from coercion allows the space for the pursuit of religious truth. Religious freedom requires that a society both refrain from preventing people from living out their religion and help to create the conditions for religious expression to flourish. A free society, then, is one where people actively seek religious truth and fully live out that truth in public and private. As Pope Francis recently said in Cuba, the Church must have “the freedom and all the means needed to bring the proclamation of the Kingdom to the existential peripheries of society.”

Human beings are social creatures. Religious freedom means that not only individuals but also families, communities, and institutions enjoy the space to live out religious convictions. Parents have a fundamental right to teach their children their faith. Companies that seek to contribute to the common good by their responsible business practices should be encouraged. Religious freedom belongs to groups as well as individuals.

This social dimension of religious freedom entails that religious freedom includes the freedom to practice our faith in public. In our culture, some tend to think that religious liberty means only that individuals can worship without interference from the government. This understanding is inadequate. Religious schools, hospitals, and charities should be able to operate in accordance with their faith. Indeed, the work of these organizations is part and parcel of their faith. They are expressions of religious mission, and religions must have the space to live out their missions.

One way to protect Religious Liberty is through so-called conscience protection legislation. The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) and (locally) Msgr William Stumpf, Archdiocesan Administrator, have requested all parishioners to ‘Take Action’ this week. Please contact your Congressional legislators to support the Conscience Protection Act of 2017 - H.R. 644 in the House of Representatives and - S. 301 in the Senate. This much needed, commonsense legislation will clarify federal law and ensure that those who provide healthcare and health coverage can continue to do so without being forced by the government to destroy innocent unborn children. Contacting your legislators is easy at HumanLifeAction.org and click the “Take Action” button in the center. It takes less than 30 seconds, and I’ve already completed it myself. Join me in supporting Pro-Life, Pro-Healthcare, Pro-Religious Liberty Legislation in the United States.

St Mary, pray for us. ~ Fr. Gries

PARISH JOB/MINISTRY OPENING: St. Gabriel Parish in Connersville, Indiana is seeking a part-time Administrator of Religious Education. Applicants should be an active and practicing Catholic, have good communication and interpersonal skills, a passion for facilitating education in the Catholic Faith, excellent organization skills, the capacity to recruit, resource and oversee catechists, have some experience relating to teaching/catechesis, and understand that this position requires some evening and weekend work. All inquiries should be sent to Fr. Dustin Boehm, Pastor, by email: DBOEHM@STGABRIELCONNERSVILLE.ORG In the email please include a cover letter, resume, and a list of references.

St. Anne's in New Castle with St. Rose in Knightstown started a Catholic ministry at the New Castle Correctional Facility shortly after the facility opened in 2002. For the Catholic church to reach as many prisoners as possible, we need to continue to find new volunteers who can help in this service, thus, we are extending an invitation to members of St. Mary to join us.

The ministry takes place every Tuesday evening with a Catholic study session at 6p.m. and a communion service or Mass at 7p.m. It concludes no later than 8:30p.m. Before and between the services, volunteers have an opportunity to interact with the prisoners one-on-one, which is a vital part of the ministry.

"Visit the Prisoners" is one of the 7 Corporal Works of Mercy. The U.S. Catholic Catechism for Adults explains that the Corporal Works of Mercy are charitable actions by which we help our neighbors in their bodily needs." The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops teaches us, "People in prison are still people, made in the image and likeness of God. No matter what someone has done, they deserve the opportunity to hear the Word of God and find the truth of the message of Christ."

Forms are available from the prison for background checks. Once a check is complete, volunteers are allowed to come to a service a few times to try it out before completing full training to become a regular volunteer.

Anyone interested in learning more about this ministry should contact Susie Delay at 765-465-0945. She is also available after all Masses this weekend.
