*To learn anew the Gospel:
The Good News that God loves us—Then to live it and share it.*

From the Deacon's Bench

Brothers and Sisters,

Several years ago, the archdiocese asked parishes to list the top ten things they wanted people to know about the Catholic Church. As you may recall, we took suggestions and after a few Sundays, we pared our list down to ten facts to forward to the archdiocese. One suggested fact from that process has stayed with me. "People need to know that there are Black Catholics." I guess because growing up where I did, it was just something I took for granted.

They were just my classmates or lived down the block. So, as we enter Black History Month, let me share a few facts from the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops about African American Catholics:

There are 3 million African American Catholics in the United States.

Of Roman Catholic parishes in the United States, 798 are considered to be predominantly African American. Most of those continue to be on the East Coast and in the South. Further west of the Mississippi River, African American Catholics are more likely to be immersed in multi-cultural parishes as opposed to predominantly African American parishes.

About 76% of African American Catholics are in diverse or shared parishes and 24% are in predominately African American parishes.

At present there are 15 living African American bishops, of whom 8 remain active.

Currently, six U.S. dioceses are headed by African American bishops, including one archdiocese.

There are 250 African American priests, 437 deacons, and 75 men of African descent in seminary formation for the priesthood in the United States.

There are 400 African American religious sisters and 50 religious brothers.

We need to recognize that the Church has not always treated every child of God with equal dignity, but we are making progress. This month, let's offer prayers of thanksgiving for those who have gone before us and for those who will follow us. Let's each cherish our shared heritage as Catholics, as people of faith. May we continue to live, learn, and love as children of God.

Peace,
Dcn. Kerry

my-darling-dear:

electric-being:

Sometimes I feel like I pray too much that I annoy God. But then I think, “I’d rather go to Heaven and have Jesus say, ‘now there’s a familiar voice’ than have him say, ‘it’s nice to finally hear from you.’”

This hit me right in the heart
