

Middle School and High School Religious Education

Welcome back! As we approach the new school year, I would like to call to mind the importance of providing your teens with faith formation, both at church and especially at home. A recent Pew Research study found that 50% of young adults leave the Catholic faith by age 30 and that those who remain practicing Catholics do so because they received strong formation in the faith, not just from religious education programs or regular Mass attendance, but primarily from the example given by their faith-filled parents. For this reason, I strongly encourage parents to continue deepening their own faith, and I hope you will take advantage of the resources we provide for you at St. Michael the Archangel Parish, such as our Sunday morning Gospel study, and FORMED.org, which provides countless resources to enliven the Catholic faith in your home. May God bring you many blessings throughout the upcoming school year!

Sunday Gospel Study

All adults are welcome to join our Gospel study group on the first Sunday of the month at 9:15-10:15 AM in the Parish Center basement. During each session, we reflect on the Sunday readings, and discuss ways to incorporate the messages of Scripture into everyday life.

The Sunday morning study is free to attend, and anyone is welcome. Please join our first session on October 7 at 9:15 AM.
