Some Boy Scouts from the city were on a camping trip. The mosquitoes were so fierce, the boys had to hide under their blankets to avoid being bitten. Then one of the scouts saw some lightning bugs and said to his friend, “We might as well give up. They’re coming after us with flashlights.”

Marriage Minute

Discipline. The word brings to mind a child in “time out”, or spending hours in the gym. In other words, no fun! Discipline, however, can bring “peaceful fruit” to your marriage:

- Hold your tongue. You get the benefit of hearing your spouse’s whole thought, and you save hurt feelings from unkind words.
- Speak his/her love language: Vacuuming, rubbing shoulders, sharing feelings or hanging out may not be your favorite, but if it’s what makes your spouse feel loved, the sacrifice is worth the effort!
- Write letters: It usually seems easier to talk things through, but the discipline of writing can help both spouses articulate their thoughts and share more effectively.
- Learn new habits: new relationship skills take some effort to learn, but they release so much joy!
