Reflections for The Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

The last two antitheses offered in the Sermon on the Mount deal with love of enemies. We should not look at “an eye for an eye” as an inordinately strict punishment. It is actually meant to limit acts of revenge by making sure the punishment is not excessive but fits the crime. However, Jesus asks his followers to take a different approach by resisting retaliation altogether. The response to a stronger person who slaps us on the cheek, takes us to court, or demands a service of us is not to resist. Similarly, for a weaker person, such as a beggar or borrower, we are to give him or her what he or she asks for. Those who are called to the Kingdom of Heaven are to go beyond the way the world usually works and serve God’s kingdom here on earth.

The other difficult demand of those who are called to the kingdom is to embrace the enemy. There is no command in the Old Testament to hate individuals in a personal or vindictive way. But there is a religious stance that calls one to hate evil and to distance oneself from those who participate in evil. In contrast, Matthew emphasizes that love of God and love of neighbor are the fundamental commands on which all else depend. Because God’s love is unconditional, we are to strive to love as God does, though, of course, it is challenging. Is it even possible?

The key is in the final verse. We are to be perfect as our heavenly father is perfect. Matthew uses the Greek word telos, which is probably better translated here as “complete.” We are not to be perfect as in doing everything correctly, that is, as in being absolutely morally correct. We are to be perfect as in striving to reach the completeness we are called to in the Kingdom of Heaven. Attempting to love our enemies is part of striving for that completeness.

I hope that you've had a chance to read the special supplement of the Monitor which announces Bishop O'Connell's decisions from the Faith in Our Future planning initiative. Besides the announcements themselves, it briefly and concisely offers insights as to why they were made and the Bishop's ongoing vision for the Diocese of Trenton.

Visitation Parish, a member of Cohort 22, will collaborate with the parishes of St. Dominic's in Brick and the Lakewood parishes of St. Anthony Claret and St. Mary of the Lake, with a merger between St. Anthony's and St. Mary's to occur no later than July 1, 2020. In addition, St. Anthony has been designated to become a Center for Hispanic Ministry by July 1st of this year.

"Collaboration": what does that mean for us as a parish? Here is the definition used by Terry Ginther, the executive director of the diocesan Office of Pastoral Life and Mission: "people or organizations working together to achieve something successfully. It moves beyond occasional cooperator and the coordination of Mass of Confession schedules. In collaboration, two or more parishes formally agree to work together in a specific way for the foreseeable future."

While the idea of linking (also known as "twinning") or merging parishes may present a more profound change to a parish community, effective collaboration must challenge the "business as usual" model that many people wish could be held. It will mean conducting a careful study of all our parish processes – staffing, liturgy, ministries and facilities – to determine where our strengths and areas that need outside cooperation lie. The effective range of outreach will both affect and be affected by influences outside of our own parish. We will need to be willing to both offer to and receive from groups with which we have not interacted before. Notice that the decision gives no indication of, or limit to, what this collaboration and formation of new relationships will entail. It is limited only by our Cohort's capacity to imagine ways of working together. Whether it succeeds or fails will depend on all of us.

The Faith in Our Future Implementation Core Team for Visitation Parish will soon be working with the Implementation Core Teams of the other parishes in the Cohort. Every ministry will be contacted as part of the work of this team. I anticipate and thank all who will help the Team's efforts in bringing about the course directed by the Bishop and I ask the prayers of everyone that this will be a successful and fruitful effort of evangelization to our brothers and sisters in the townships of Brick and Lakewood.
