FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Mend your ways, encourage one another, agree with one another, live in peace, and the God of love and peace will be with you. St. Paul always offers us a bold challenge!

To live in peace. It begins with your family. It is sad that many of our families are experiencing significant tension and stress. Many husbands and wives do not spend the time with each other that is necessary to create and sustain the affective bonds of love that are what make a marriage strong and enduring. Economic necessities require that one or both spouses work long hours outside the home and when the spouses are together they are often too tired to focus on their affective needs. In addition, their children demand much of them and as they give them the time that they need, it is less time that they have for themselves. As tensions grow between spouses, it increases the overall tension within the household which necessarily impacts how the spouses relate to their children. The end result is a household that is very much not at peace. Every family has to find a way in which they can make quiet time together a part of their weekly reality and spouses must do the same. It is not easy, but if your marriage and your family are the foundation of your lives then you will find the way to do what is both necessary and essential.

When you live in peace, the God of love and peace will be with you. God is always with you! The problem is that when our lives are not peaceful, when we are stressed, agitated, and disturbed, we cannot perceive God's presence with us. In our agitation and disquietude, our hearts are not attuned to the presence of God with us and the assurances of God that God is, indeed, with us and will help us persevere in love and peace. As part of the quiet time that every family and every couple have to create in their week, every family and every couple need to pray to God. They need to make a quiet space for God so that they can experience God's presence with them, God's deep love for them, and God's deep desire to sustain them through all of life's challenges. The challenge of St. Paul is one that we should hear and embrace!

PRAYER TO THE HOLY TRINITY:

Glory be to the Father,
Who by His almighty power and love created me,
making me in his own wonderful image and likeness.
Glory be to the Son,
who by his suffering, death and resurrection,
has freed me from the power of sin and death and opened for me the gates of heaven.
Glory be to the Holy Spirit, through whom God dwells in me by virtue of my baptism and through whom the life of God is continually renewed in me through the graces I receive in the sacraments.
To you, o sacred and marvelous Trinity of Persons, one God, be praise and glory both now and forever. Amen.

UNITED STATES BISHOPS on the PARIS AGREEMENT ON CLIMATE CHANGE: The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB), along with Pope Francis and the entire Catholic Church, have consistently upheld the Paris agreement as an important international mechanism to promote environmental stewardship and encourage climate change mitigation. The President's decision not to honor the U.S. commitment to the Paris agreement is deeply troubling. The Scriptures affirm the value of caring for creation and caring for each other in solidarity. The Paris agreement is an international accord that promotes these values. President Trump's decision will harm the people of the United States and the world, especially the poorest, most vulnerable communities. The impacts of climate change are already being experienced in sea level rise, glacial melts, intensified storms, and more frequent droughts. I can only hope that the President will propose concrete ways to address global climate change and promote environmental stewardship. Bishop Oscar Cantú, Chair of the Bishops Committee on International Justice and Peace.

INEXPRESSIBLE MYSTERY - The God of the universe is mysterious. Science has not been able to solve the mystery of how the universe arose and explain exactly what is it that continues giving creative energy and masterful design. No religion asserts that it has found the words to fully name the ineffable mystery of God, since it doesn't matter what name we use, God always transcends our limited ability to understand. God is a mystery which is believed and that is not known. And however, we Christians believe that the name we use for God is that best expresses that inexpressible mystery: God is the Holy Trinity of three persons. United in a communion of love that is poured into creative love, Savior and sanctifier which envelops the world. Today's reading's celebrates the mystery of the Trinity and give us the keys to live this mystery in our lives. © J. S. Paluch Co.,
