The book is:

I Wish I'd Been There

Edited by Bryon Hollinshead

In this book, 20 historians imagine themselves present at a variety of dramatic events in American history, and give first-person accounts of those events.

This is history presented as you never studied it in school.

Select at least one event and tell why it appealed to you and what if anything you learned.

Read the book and then come and discuss it from the perspective of our Catholic faith.
