

Twenty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time
August 28, 2016

Conduct your affairs with humility, and you will be loved more than a giver of gifts. Humble yourself the more, the greater you are, and you will find favor with God. Water quenches a flaming fire, and alms atone for sins.

Reflection on the Scriptures

"For everyone who exalts himself shall be humbled and he who humbles himself shall be exalted." —Luke 14:11J

Jesus invites us to humble ourselves by taking the lowest place (Luke 14:10) and by inviting "beggars and the crippled, the lame and the blind" to eat with us (Luke 14:13). Most people take Jesus' words as a suggestion and encouragement to be humble and help the poor. Jesus, however, indicates that His words are to be taken much more seriously when He concluded His command with the words: "You should be pleased that they cannot repay you, for you will be repaid in the resurrection of the just" (Luke 14:14). Jesus' call to humility and service is of ultimate significance.

When Jesus commands us to humble ourselves, it means much, much more than these words coming from anyone else. Jesus washed the feet of the apostles (John 13:4ff) and "humbled Himself, obediently accepting even death, death on a cross!" (Philippians 2:8) Jesus has humbled Himself by giving Himself to us in Holy Communion. He is so humbled that He doesn't look like God or even like a man. He looks like bread and wine. When this crucified, eucharistic God-Man speaks of humbling ourselves, He speaks with a depth and love far beyond anything we have ever heard.

Humble yourself — by Jesus' standards.
