

Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time
January 29, 2017

He began to teach them, saying

BLESSED are the POOR in SPIRIT
the PEACEMAKERS
the MEEK
the MERCIFUL
those who mourn
the CLEAN of HEART
they who hunger for JUSTICE
For theirs is the KINGDOM of HEAVEN

Reflection on the Scriptures

Jesus "began to teach them: 'How blest...'" —
Matthew 5:2-3

The eight Beatitudes go together. For example, we will never be poor in spirit, that is, voluntarily live below our means, unless we have mourned for our sins, have the strength of meekness, and are seeking first God's kingdom and righteousness (see Matthew 6:33). Yet if we hunger and thirst for righteousness, we will certainly be persecuted (see 2 Timothy 3:12). However, only those committed to the Lord and repentant of sin, that is, those who are clean of heart, will accept the privilege of being persecuted. The clean of heart mourn for their sins and hunger and thirst for righteousness. The eight Beatitudes are eight ways of looking at one thing

The basic Beatitude is: "Blessed are the disciples of Jesus, who live to imitate Him." Blessedness is found by living in and for Jesus. The main thing about the Beatitudes is that they are revealed to us by Jesus and are revelations of Jesus' character. Jesus is the only name by which we can be saved and ultimately blessed (see Acts 4:12). Jesus is our only Way, Truth, and Life (John 14:6). God has made Jesus "our Wisdom and also our Justice, our Sanctification, and our Redemption" (1 Corinthians 1:30). Jesus is our Love, Hope, Joy, Lord, Savior, and God. Blessed are those living in Jesus.
